RUSSIANS WIN KEY TO LEMBERG

STOP ESCAPE OF SLACKERS POSING AS ILL

Rules for Tests of Men's Fitness Are Issued.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., July 10.—In preparation for the selective draft to military service, which is expected to take place next week, Provost Marshal General Crowder took these two steps today:

Announced the physical requirements of the men who will be selected for the national army and the rules and regulations governing the acceptance and rejection of slackers by examining physicians reporting to the exemption boards.

Issued the census estimates of the present population of states, counties, and cities, which will be used as a basis in computing the quotas of drafted men to be furnished to the national army.

GUARD AGAINST SLACKERS.

As soon as the draft takes place the men called will report to the exemption boards and receive assignment of examination by the appointed physicians. If a man is unfit physically for military service he will be exempted. If he is found fit the question of his exemption will depend upon the judgment of the exemption board on other than physical grounds.

Only serious physical deficiencies will be deemed to unfit a registrant for military service. These deficiencies are listed in detail in the regulations issued by Gen. Crowder.

The government is taking every possible precaution to prevent slackers from escaping military service by simulated illness and false claims of physical deficiency.

WILSON TO SUPERVISE LOTTERY.

It was learned today that President Wilson may supervise the lottery which will determine the order in which the registrants will be called for service. It was stated that either the president or Secretary of War Baker, or both, will be present when the drawing takes place.

The war department now contemplates determining the order in which all of the 9,800,000 registrants may be called for service. An arrangement of serial numbers and key numbers is being devised by which the priority of the increments will be determined.

WATCH FOR DECEPTION.

In the opening paragraph of the regulations made public today there is printed in bold type this admonition to exemption boards and examining physicians:

"It is important, to begin with, that the examining physician should realize that there will be a certain proportion of men among those presenting themselves for examination who will endeavor to obtain exemption by dissimulation, varying from exaggeration of an existing condition not disqualifying to downright malingering, and he should be prepared to protect the government and himself against such attempts at deception."

It is the purpose of the government to release men from service only for actual disability. This also is apparent in a portion of the regulations which declares that temporary effects of acute disease or of any injury are not to be regarded as justifying a finding that the person so affected is physically deficient and not physically qualified for military service.

MAY CHANGE REQUIREMENTS.

Temporary disability of this kind, however, the rules prescribe, "may be regarded as justifying a reasonable delay in completing the physical examination in order that opportunity for recovery may be afforded."

Provision is also made directing the provost marshal general to send medical officers of the army to visit the various exemption boards from time to time to observe the manner of examinations and authorizing them to reexamine men whenever they deem it wise so to do. In any case of reexamination of men found deficient by local exemption boards a report must be made to the provost marshal general. Another regulation provides that the president may modify the physical requirements at any time.

PROVIDE WEIGHT STANDARDS.

The rules prescribe that all men presenting themselves for examination must be stripped.

A standard height, weight, and chest measurement is first set forth for guidance of the physicians. These figures

THREE BOMBS ON SOUTH SIDE; 1 DEAD, 2 HURT

Two Stores and Flat Attacked at Midnight.

Three bombs were exploded in quick succession on the south side shortly before midnight last night. One man was killed, another seriously injured, and a woman with a 2 days' old baby suffered a severe shock.

The explosions were at:

1900 West Fifty-ninth street, three story building, store and flats above.

221-225 East Fiftieth street, thirty-two flat building.

2818-2820 Wentworth avenue, four story store and apartment building.

One Killed; Brother May Die.

Silvis O'Connor and his brother James of 6022 Lincoln avenue were passing the Fifty-ninth street building when the explosion occurred. Silvis O'Connor was instantly killed and his brother so seriously hurt that at the Englewood hospital it was said he may not live through the night.

Mrs. Marion Rotivoti lived in one of the flats. Two days ago she became a mother. She was taken to a neighbor's residence with the baby. Her condition is critical.

The police believe the Fifty-ninth street explosion and the one on Wentworth avenue are both the results of strike troubles.

Thirty Thrown from Bed.

A dynamite bomb hurled into the Hardie Bennett establishment, 221-225 East Fiftieth street, practically wrecked the establishment, threw thirty people living in the flats above the store from bed, and did great damage to glass in the neighborhood.

The proprietor of the store, T. Hopkins, was unable to explain the reason for the blowing of the bomb. The police believe it exploded accidentally.

The windows in the neighboring establishments of John England, 2824 Wentworth avenue; Paul Bade, 2818 Wentworth avenue, and Miss Jackavoch, 2812 Wentworth avenue, were broken.

Thirty-two Flat Building Hit.

A bomb placed under a rear porch of the thirty-two apartment building at 2820 West Fiftieth street shattered windows for half a block around. No one was severely hurt, though many of the occupants of the building reported persons were hurled from bed.

The police were greeted with men and women in their night clothes. Labor trouble is blamed for the explosion. The building is owned by Mrs. Louise O'Donnell, who owns a number of others in the neighborhood.

At the flat which was attacked a union janitor is employed, but of the others the police were informed, nonunion men are hired.

A small fire which followed the explosion was quickly extinguished.

TAKE HALICZ; CUT WIDE GAP IN TEUTON LINE

Wedge 20 Mile Long, 16 Miles Deep in Galicia.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, July 11, 3 a. m.—Halicz, the strategic key to Lemberg, capital of Galicia, has been captured by the Russians, a dispatch from Reuter's Petrograd correspondent says.

Halicz, sixty-three miles southeast of Lemberg on the Dniester river, is an important railroad junction. It is eighteen miles north of Stanislau and about eight miles north of Jezupol. Halicz was the center of much heavy fighting last August and September, when the Russians were attempting to reach Lemberg. Stanislau was captured by the Russians in August, but they failed to take Halicz after engaging in furious battles at Mariampol and Monasterzyska, and forcing the Austro-Germans to retire between the Zlota-Lipa and the Dniester. In September Halicz was bombarded by the Russian artillery, but succeeded in holding the town.

GERMAN LINE SMASHED.

PETROGRAD, July 10.—Gen. Brusiloff's operations in Galicia along a front of twenty miles have broken the Austro-German front between Halicz and the Carpathians and already the Russian cavalry has pressed forward a distance of sixteen miles.

To the west of the Dniester, as a result of the Russian forward movement, Halicz has been hemmed in from the south and southwest and the Russians now are menacing the Halicz bridgehead. The fall of Halicz is momentarily expected.

From July 2 to 8 Inclusive Gen. Korniloff took 14,000 prisoners and 55 guns, of which 14 were heavy pieces.

TEUTON ARMY RETREATS.

The Austro-German forces have withdrawn beyond the Lomnica river, about ten miles west of Jezupol, which was occupied Sunday by the Russians. The Russians have taken four more villages and increased their captures of prisoners more than one thousand. Seven more field guns and other war material also fell into the Russian hands.

West of Stanislau, toward Kalusz and Dolina, the Russians have penetrated the Teutonic lines to a depth of nearly seven miles and between Stanislau and Halicz they have widened their wedge.

In their retirement, which was made hastily, judging from the large amount of guns and military stores captured by the Russians, the Austro-Germans failed to make a stand at the rivers, the Lukovitsa and the Lavka. It is probable they may entrench on the west bank of the Lomnica.

WHOLE LINE MUST BEND.

A stand west of the Lomnica, however, will not prevent the forced evacuation of Halicz, the strategic key to Lemberg. The Russians, according to report, have left only one avenue of retreat toward Lemberg, that between the Dniester and the Lipica rivers.

The evacuation of Halicz would make a retreat from the Brzezany-Zlochoff-Brody line by the Austro-Germans almost a necessity.

Meanwhile the Russian artillery is hammering the enemy lines south of Brzezany and north of the Pripet marshes, near Riga, Dvinsk, and Smorgon, the fighting activity has increased.

RUSSIANS FLOCK TO WAR.

The powerful Russian offensive is having the effect of stimulating martial spirit throughout the country.

The war office is receiving many telegrams from various parts of Russia, Siberia and the Caucasus of the formation of "storm battalions" and from garrisons asking to be sent to the front.

An organization has been formed under the name of "the general Russian union for the formation of a volunteer army." Already there are sixty branches actively engaged in recruiting. This organization is deluged with demands from women who desire to enlist. It is proposed to concentrate all women applicants at some point outside Petrograd for drilling.

In the army itself the storm battalion movement is growing. One such has

BLUECOAT KILLS DRUG PEDDLER AS CROWDS LOOK ON

Youth's Attempted Escape Is Halted by Bullet.

John Paris, 21 years old, a dope peddler, was shot through the back and fatally wounded by Policeman Daniel Gilbert of the Twenty-second street station last night after he had broken loose from the policeman and government agents who had sought to question him and led them in a chase through the old levee.

The shooting, which took place at 10 o'clock, occurred at Twenty-first street and Michigan avenue, and was witnessed by hundreds of citizens on foot and in the fleet of autos that pass along the boulevard.

With the policeman's bullet in his left lung Paris died on the way to the Provident hospital in an ambulance.

Other Peddlers Active.

Paris is said to be one of several drug peddlers who have been plying their trade since Dr. Arthur L. Blunt, alleged chief of the drug dispensers, was put out of business by federal authorities a month or so ago.

It is reported that Paris had a "beat" on the south side which he traveled in the manner of a policeman, handing out drugs to "the trade." He had a quantity of drugs on him when shot.

Policeman Gilbert, who is assigned to the "dope squad," Dr. William Sapp, John Daniels, and Herbert E. Parver of the internal revenue drug crew were out on a hunt for Paris last night. They wished to capture him and learn the identity of other peddlers.

Capturing Is Hard.

When word reached the Twenty-second street station that Paris was on the south side Gilbert and Daniels started in their direction and a motor chase started on his familiar dinner route.

"There he is now," said one of the men. Gilbert ran out and grabbed him by the arm. Paris resisted, managed to break away and ran east on Twenty-first street, the policemen and government authorities in pursuit.

Seeking to frighten him to a halt, Gilbert fired twice in the air, but Paris only ran faster. Gilbert then took aim and brought him down with a bullet in the back.

According to federal agents, Paris had been in custody several times for peddling narcotics and was known as an habitue of the old levee district.

WE'LL BELIEVE THIS WHEN WE SEE THEM BIGGER

Here's a bit of cheer for the housewife—larger loaves of bread for the same prices are promised as a result of the national food embargo and the federal regulation forbidding the return to bakers of unsold loaves.

Charles Pasch, president of the Illinois Master Bakers' association, said bread would be cheaper as soon as the embargo lowers the price of flour.

As a result of the exhaustion of the Texas crop, the wholesale price of potatoes jumped 40 cents a bushel yesterday. It is expected that the retail price will be affected temporarily, but receipts from Virginia are likely to reduce prices again within two weeks.

BEEFLESS DAYS AT N. Y. HOTELS

New York, July 10.—[Special.]—Suggestions for one beefless day each week, with the serving of "war bread" at every meal and a radical curtailment in the use of pork products and all butter and fats, have been made to Herbert C. Hoover, prospective national food administrator, by the New York City Hotel association.

If the plan is approved by Mr. Hoover—and it was devised along lines suggested by him—patrons of New York hotels will probably have their first beefless day next week.

At the same time menu cards will contain announcement of the inauguration of one day a week on which no beef will be served.

Chicagoan to Handle All Food Trains in U. S.

Topeka, Kas., July 10.—All transportation matters in the United States are to be in charge of Edward Chambers, vice president of the Santa Fé railroad, during the period of the war, Mr. Chambers having accepted an appointment as assistant to Herbert C. Hoover, the nation's food controller.

Mr. Chambers, who began railroad work as a trucksman, has been in charge of the traffic department of the Santa Fé with offices in Chicago.

In his new capacity Mr. Chambers will have charge of moving foodstuffs to feed the nation and its allies.

FIGHT ON; NO PEACE--HOLLWEG

INTERFERING WITH HIS DRIVE

KAISER BACKS CHALLENGE TO WHOLE WORLD

"We Must Conquer" Is Their Message to Critics.

BULLETIN.

COPENHAGEN, July 10.—According to the Tageblatt, the crown council held in Berlin last Wednesday showed that the imperial chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, possesses the emperor's complete confidence. The emperor, after the adjournment of the council, conferred with the chancellor and colleagues.

Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg's position, the paper adds, seems assured in its entirety with the reichstag parties. The Kaiserin are said to be unanimous for the immediate vote of the German reichstag which is now engaged in considering the peace resolution. It is expected that the resolution will not be a compromise.

PEACE TERMS REFUSED.

LONDON, July 10.—Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg has answered critics of the German government who urge that refusal to give the central powers peace terms.

"We cannot declare our terms of peace," he said. "We must wait to compare. I regret that the formula of peace without annexations is unacceptable to many."

This declaration is said to have been made to members of the main committee of the reichstag and delivered a meeting of the several groups called by the Kaiser.

DENOUNCED BY KAISER.

Hollweg's rejection of the Centrists' and Socialists' demand for free and detailed outline of the German peace aims is said to have been dictated by the kaiser.

As a result of the attitude taken by the chancellor, the tension throughout Germany, various dispatches indicate, is more intense.

Conditions were not improved when it was declared that Foreign Minister Zimmermann, the minister of the interior, and Vice Chancellor Helfferich had resigned from the ministry on the demand of the kaiser and that five members of the Prussian cabinet would be asked to give up their posts.

WHAT HOLLWEG SAID.

According to a dispatch from Berne the substance of the chancellor's speech before the main committee, as quoted by the Lokal Anzeiger, follows:

"We must continue the war with our whole strength. I do not deny that we have grave difficulties to overcome, but so have our enemies. We shall see whether their difficulties or ours are greater.

"I am sure we can win if we hold out.

"Nothing was further from my intention than to cling to my post, but now it is a question of protecting the fatherland from injury and for this reason I consider it necessary to retain my post.

"My refusal to outline peace terms is omitted from this account.

ASSAILS HIS CRITICS.

The chancellor bitterly assailed the patriotism of Herr Erzberger, the Centrist leader, who on Saturday precipitated the whole political crisis in Germany by suddenly announcing his determination not to support the government further until Hollweg detailed the empire's peace aims and announced immediate fulfillment of electoral reform pledges.

The chancellor's speech did not succeed in quieting his critics.

A Berlin dispatch to the Cologne Gazette, as cabled from Amsterdam by the Central News, says that after the chancellor made his address Erzberger declared that the debate had strengthened his conviction that the whole situation required energetic action by the reichstag. He concluded violently the debate

WILL OF C. E. KOHL SHOWS ESTATE OF ONLY $25,000

The will of the late Charles E. Kohl, who was prominent in Chicago theatrical business, was filed yesterday before Judge Henry Horner in the Probate court by Attorney George A. Tyler. The court papers show that the estate of both real and personal property will not amount to more than $25,000.

The widow, Mrs. Margaret S. Kohl, is the largest beneficiary of the will, which was dated Jan. 6, 1916. One-half of the estate is left to her. The other half is left in trust to Mrs. Margaret S. Kohl and Mrs. Caroline L. Kohl, the decedent's mother, for the care and bringing up of the two children, Charles E., 9 years old, and Margaret, 4 years old. Both the widow and the mother are made executors.

Kohl died on May 28, 1917, at Oconomowoc, Wis., under unusual circumstances. Several investigations were started, but a coroner's inquest established the fact that the death had been due to natural causes. He was the son of the late Charles Kohl, who was extensively interested in theatrical enterprises. At the time of his death Mr. Kohl was secretary and treasurer of the Monroe Theater company and vice president of the Western Vaudeville Managers' association.

NEW YORK BARS QUIT FREE LUNCH

NEW YORK, July 10.—Four revolutionary edicts were issued tonight by the Retail Liquor Dealers' association of New York county, which controls 5,000 saloons. They call for:

Abolition of the free lunch.

An increase of 5 cents in the price of all imported drinks.

Increase in the price of beer to 20 cents a pint.

Smaller beer glasses.

The free lunch will be abolished, according to President McClenahan, so the saloonkeeper can "do his bit" in food conservation. It was estimated that by the action more than $30,000 a day can be saved by the 3,000 liquor dealers in the county who now supply patrons with free food.

Seven Lost in Storm as Steamer Sinks in Lake

Ostonville, Minn., July 10.—Seven persons lost their lives when the excursion steamer Muskegon went down on Big Stone lake near here tonight during a heavy storm.

THE WAR

ABROAD.

London hears Halicz, key to Lemberg, has been captured by the Russians. Petrograd reports twenty mile gap cut in German line in Galicia. Four more villages and 1,000 Austro-Germans captured. Berlin admits retreat in this sector.

Paris reports repulse of strong enemy attack near Hurtebise. Berlin says French were beaten off south of Courtecon and southeast of Carny.

London reports successful raid near Nieuport. Berlin reports heavy artillery fighting on the Ypres front.

DOCTORS LAUNCH PLAN TO REDUCE BABY DEATH RATE

A campaign by which it is hoped that the death rate among babies of the city will be lowered at least 10 per cent was launched last night at a meeting held jointly by Health Commissioner Robertson and the infant welfare committee of the Chicago Medical society.

One hundred and twelve out of every 1,000 infants in the Chicago death rate, whereas only 95 out of 1,000 is the rate in New York. It was pointed out by Dr. Robertson, who called the meeting. One important reason for the higher rate here is that New York spends $1,200,000 a year on infant welfare work, as against an appropriation of only $31,000 annually here, Dr. Robertson declared.

The campaign will be conducted along two principal lines—meetings in schoolhouses and community centers throughout the city for the purpose of instructing mothers in the care of babies, and free treatment of infant diseases by physicians who are members of the Chicago Medical society, wherever parents are unable to pay for medical care. Red Cross nurses will aid.

An increase in the diphtheria death rate, especially among children, has alarmed Health Commissioner Robertson. Five children have died within the last twenty-four hours and there have been 105 deaths from the disease in the past thirty days. Most of them, according to the physician, are due to "criminal negligence" on the part of parents, who, he says, failed to call doctors early enough.

'KAISER' CHANGES HIS NAME; NOW HE'S PLAIN FIDO

Add horrors of war:

The little dachshund around the corner has been having a dickens of a time since the United States cast her lot against the co-partnership of "Me und Gott." Prior to the advent of this country in the war he displayed an amiable disposition and a wagging tail when called "Kaiser," but that day is past, according to the dog license bureau of the city clerk's office.

Why the Change?

"Since the start of the war," said City Clerk Igoe yesterday, "owners of many dogs have changed the names of their pets. 'Kaiser' was a great name for dachshunds, but this year you won't find any of that name."

Mrs. Josephine Schade of 3626 Lake Park avenue applied for a dog license yesterday. When the deputy clerk asked for the name of the animal she replied, without a smile: "Billy Sunday."

Some of the other names for dogs are:

Stamp, Smoke, Sunshine, Dandelion, Cupid, Woodrow, Hun, Pansies, Sportsman.

Vaudeville Stuff.

"Why do you call him that?" asked the clerk when "Hardware's" owner applied for a license.

"Because," replied the other solemnly, "every time we call him he makes a bolt for the door."

Col. Herbert of Chicago Is Dead in Minnesota

St. Paul, Minn., July 10.—Col. Benjamin B. Herbert of Chicago, founder of the National Editorial association, who was taken suddenly ill last night, died at the University of Minnesota farm school hospital shortly before midnight. Death was due to heart trouble. Col. Herbert had been attending the National Editorial association's convention in Minneapolis. He was 74 years old.

L. E. Myers Recruited for Food Control Board

Ironwood, Mich., July 10.—L. E. Myers, president of the L. E. Myers company of Chicago and owner of $10,000,000 in properties, including the Ironwood and Bessemer Railway and Light company and the Ironwood Water company, will go to Washington July 15 to assist Herbert C. Hoover in supervision of federal food control. Myers will take charge of the bureau of special investigation.

of the Pan-Germans and other annexationists.

The meeting of the crown council is described as being the longest on record since July, 1914, when Emperor William signed the mobilization order that preceded the declaration of war.

The session lasted three hours and the ministers of both the empire and the kingdom were in attendance, together with members of the emperor's military and naval cabinet.

No announcement was made regarding what took place, but it is known that the question of peace was the main topic under consideration.

Another important matter discussed, it is declared, were conditions in Prussia, and as a result of the meeting it is believed a franchise bill for Prussia granting universal, direct suffrage and the secret ballot will be introduced in the proper channels.

Wants U-Boat War Stopped.

COPENHAGEN, July 10.—A German arriving here last night from Berlin makes the statement that the purpose of Herr Erzberger, the Catholic Center party leader, in making his sensational speech before the main committee of the reichstag on Saturday, was to secure an abandonment of the submarine campaign, as well as the proclamation of a peace program without annexations or indemnities.

The majority in the reichstag has been practically formed on the basis of these demands, which it was thought would align America and Russia for peace, and powerfully influence France and England. It was said the same majority has been secured for a demand for the institution of a parliamentary ministry with Dr. Gustav Stresemann, Nationalist, and Philipp Scheidemann, as candidates for portfolios.

Angers Von Reventlow.

Angry comment by Count Ernst von Reventlow, naval expert of the Tages Zeitung, on the attacks of Erzberger on pan-Germanism and the German admiralty, throws some light on the nature of Erzberger's references to the submarine campaign which the censorship attempted to keep out of the papers.

Count von Reventlow declared Erzberger and his supporters were aiming to destroy with the submarine war also the nation's confidence in victory and the prospect of German peace.

Herr Erzberger's criticisms in which Count Reventlow intimates the foreign office sympathizes seem to hit a tender point in the German submarine policy, namely, the failure to produce promised results within fixed time limits, for, says the count, "it would be grotesque childishness or partisan politics to say to the government in committee something as follows: 'You fixed the submarine program for a definite number of months. This period has now expired. No decision has been reached. You therefore stand where no error was permissible.'"

All Try to Explain.

Count Reventlow answers this hypothetical presentation of the case by insisting that the sole question to be answered in weighing a decision in the submarine war was whether it would have a decisive success within a specified period.

That Herr Erzberger's attack took these lines is further indicated by citations of statistics by Vice Admiral von Capelle and Vice Chancellor Helfferich to prove that the submarine campaign is nearing Great Britain down and the vice admiral's attempt to show how submarine publicity is helping the food campaign.

In pursuance of its policy of extending the influence of the German press the business interests under Krupp leadership have purchased the Radical Weser Zeitung, one of the oldest Bremen newspapers, and will make it like the recently purchased Berlin Lokal Anzeiger, an out and out pan-German and annexationist organ.

The same company is reported to be negotiating for the purchase of a number of other prominent Liberal and Radical provincial papers.

Vienna Key to Situation.

ZURICH, July 10.—Six influential representatives of the Centrist party in Germany went to Vienna last week, where they conferred with leading members of the Austrian aristocracy.

Immediately after their return, according to a summary of the German political situation issued from here, friends of Mathias Erzberger, the Clerical leader in the reichstag, began strong opposition to Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg.

The Manchester Nouvelle Nederlanden, Clerical Liberal newspapers, particularly Simultaneously the South German Ultramontanists abandoned their pan-Germanism policy and energetically demanded democratic reforms. It is added that the key to the situation seems to be Vienna.

MAKES GERARD LAUGH.

New York, July 10.—Former American Ambassador to Germany James W. Gerard today laughed at the announcement that "next from Berlin that there are signs of the political liberalization of Germany.

"There is no question that electoral reforms are badly needed in Germany," Mr. Gerard said, "but—" and he laughed again.

"The trouble," he continued, "is that Germany was districted for elections according to the population forty years ago.

"This districting never has been changed, but the population has shifted and increased. There has been a big movement to the cities. But the millions of new population in the cities have no more representation in the reichstag now than they had then. Hence millions of them are not represented at all.

"Other districts, as a natural consequence, are overrepresented."

Different in Prussia.

Turning to the situation in the state of Prussia, Gerard said:

"The cry for reform in Prussia is different. They want a change in the state electoral system.

"State suffrage there is granted on the basis of property holdings. They have what they call circle voting, or voting by circles instead of districts. Hence a big property holder voting in one circle may have more influence on the personnel of the government than 10,000 lesser property holding lights voting in the next circle."

Mr. Gerard then explained the make-up of the reichstag.

"There are three parties in this national body," he said, "the Conservatives, the Socialists, and the Catholics. Of these the Catholics are the strongest. Their support either to the Socialists or the Conservatives dominates the body.

"This powerful Romanist organization was built up years ago as a measure of self-defense against persecutions. Its siftings in the reichstag obtain priests as well as laymen."

Call on Democracy of the World to Put New Russia on Its Feet

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.
[SPECIAL CABLE TO CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

STOCKHOLM, July 10.—The latest pronunciamento of the Petrograd council of workmen and soldiers' deputies makes the formal declaration that the onward policy of the Russian provisional government "can only be fruitful if supported by the democracy of the whole world."

"All depends on this support," the pronunciamento continues. "Our delegates will visit the neutral countries, as well as England and France, and in the name of the revolution directly address western Europe's proletariat, telling them the Russian revolution bleeds to death and awaits from them help in the struggle for the speedy ending of the war on the basis of complete renunciation of indemnities and annexations by all the belligerents—neutral and belligerent.

Will Blast Resistance.

"The explanation, to western Europe's proletariat, of the great problems the Russian revolution must solve will meet with obstinate resistance from imperialistic circles in allied and hostile countries and from the capitalistic newspapers in Germany, Austria-Hungary, England, and France, because the press has distorted the significance of the Russian events.

"The governments of England, France, Germany, and Austria-Hungary have done all in their power to prevent the Russian revolution's voice penetrating into other nations.

"We cannot say today that the Russian revolution has found a worthy understanding and a corresponding echo among other nations. This understanding will come and finds echo will respond, but perhaps not as soon as we would like to hear it. And time does not wait.

"Without the support from the democracies of the entire world the Russian revolution will never achieve the ending of the war on its platform."

Extremists Are Opposed.

Defining the aims of the revolution, the extremists declare that the only way to gain them is to sever all connections with the capitalistic elements, seize the supreme power, and subject all capitalistic elements to revolutionary democracy's rule.

"The workmen and soldiers' council, commenting on this supposition, say, 'though in general agreeing with those aims, we think the time is not ripe for subjecting them decisively, because the democracy is not yet sufficiently organized and consolidated. Furthermore, we believe cooperation with the capitalistic elements, which slightly incline to certain Democratic tendencies, still is possible. Consequently, breaking with these elements and seizure of the power by the council at the present time, would cause civil war in the near future, in the storm of which all the successes gained by the revolution would perish.

"The cornerstone of the political line thus indicated by the council is verified by events of the last three months. Revolutionary Russian democracy, represented by an overwhelming majority of organized forces, has now only to follow that line.

"If it does, the constitutional assembly will bestow upon the democratic powers on a legal basis and will reform the danger of a civil war to a minimum."

Democracy Is Organizing.

How well the democracy is organizing is indicated by council reports of the numbers belonging to the workingmen corporations in Petrograd.

After two months of organizing the Colon metal workers' corporation has 20,000 members, the textile workers 20,000, the woodworkers 25,000, the printers 10,000, the builders 11,000, and the waterworkers 16,000.

All these corporations are working on wage scales and endeavoring to solve labor disputes.

There also is in progress the foundation of numerous schools teaching the socialistic theory on the scientific basis as offered by Marx.

CHICAGO HOUSES 3,639,957 SOULS, CENSUS FIGURES

Illinois Shows 7,227,952, While Continental U. S. Has 103,849,684.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., July 10.—[Special.]—Chicago—probably to its own great amazement—now has a population of 3,639,957 and Illinois 7,227,952, according to an estimate made by the bureau of the census at the request of Provost Marshal Gen. Crowder for use as a basis for the apportionment of the forthcoming army draft. It is believed that it will be hard to persuade even the most hopeful Chicago boosters of the "old school" that these figures are well founded.

According to this revised estimate of the census bureau the total population of the continental United States is 103,849,684. With Alaska, Hawaii, and Porto Rico included, the total is 105,886,068. Other possessions, among them the Philippines, were not included in the revised estimate.

Here Are the Figures.

Population estimates for the central states, as compared with the former 1917 estimate, are given as follows:

State—	1917.	Former estimate.
Illinois	7,227,952	6,130,669
Indiana	2,755,929	2,668,164
Iowa	2,320,978	2,224,771
Michigan	4,915,057	3,047,620
Minnesota	2,377,933	2,288,094
Wisconsin	2,570,921	2,513,759

On the basis of these estimates the population of Chicago has increased 1,186,953 since an estimate of 2,447,245 in 1910, and Illinois shows an increase of 1,096,283 over the previous 1917 population estimate. It may be that Chicago in return for the compliment will be relieved to furnish even a greater quota of fighting men.

Cook county, outside of Chicago, has a population of 870,451; Du Page county has 98,092; Kane, 58,655, the city of Aurora, in which it is, 36,062; Will county, 54,028, with most of the population in Joliet, which shows 31,978; Lake county, 37,203; Peoria city, 77,296; and Springfield city, 51,624.

Method of Calculation.

Because of the unusual changes in population shown by the figures, the method employed in reaching them is described by the census bureau as follows:

"The assumption that the proportion which the registrants in any county or city represent of its total population is the same throughout the United States may not be true, but the only way to ascertain the true proportion for each geographical unit would be to make an actual enumeration of its population. The proportion in 1910 varied considerably in different parts of the country, being greater as a rule in the newer than in the older sections and greater in cities than in rural localities.

"Because the abnormal shiftings of population which have taken place among certain parts of the country in recent years and particularly since the outbreak of the war gave so great an impetus to the manufacture of munitions and other commodities needed by the belligerents, the proportions which men 21 to 31 years of age inclusive represent of the total population of many localities have changed greatly since 1910. For this reason the assumption that the proportions existing in 1910 still prevail will result in very inaccurate estimates for some localities."

New York Has 6,500,000.

New York City is credited in the estimate with a population of 6,504,192; New York state, 11,197,792. Philadelphia county and city, is credited with 2,085,-021, and Pennsylvania, 8,261,802.

EXEMPTION WORK TO BE FINISHED ONE WEEK LATE

All of 86 Local Boards May Be Ready by Tomorrow.

By tomorrow night all of the eighty-six exemption boards in the Chicago district probably will have completed their work, nearly a week later than the time first set by the provost marshal at Washington.

The boards received instructions, notifying the number of registrants they were to call for examination, and the number of claims for exemption they were to dispose of. Each board reported to the provost marshal general's office and was told how many men it was to send to the local camps.

Members of draft board No. 67, which finished its work last night, turned in the highest number of registrations, 5,555—and, incidentally, it was learned that the three members of the board who receive no pay for their time devote all of their time to examining registrants and the clerk of the board to the city hall the four days examining their registration records.

Districts and Names.

The eight districts that reported to the city hall yesterday gave the number of names listed, follow:

Division.	Names registered.	Names examined.
2	4,014,841	2,144
29	2,979,442	2,144
37	4,997,181	2,000
89	3,013,849	2,078

Members of the boards in the Sixty-third and Eighty-third districts sent their reports direct to the adjutant general.

The calendar cards, it was thought yesterday, would be accounted for when all the reports are made to the adjutant general.

Mothers Plead for Sons.

Allayed efforts to induce exemption board members to protest some of the young men from the draft are being investigated by government agents. Reports from some of the districts are that mothers and other interested parties have been pleading with some of the board members to shield sons and friends from the operation of the draft. Arrangements have been made to keep a close watch on the work of the exemption officials when the young men are called in for examination.

Slackers who failed to register because of absence from their respective districts, illness, or even personal reasons are not to be sent to jail hereafter if they will consent to register. This order came from Attorney General Gregory yesterday.

Dr. Ralph Pagnus will serve on the exemption board in the Forty-third district, succeeding Dr. John M. Vitalis, who resigned.

PLAN EXCHANGE WITH NEUTRALS TO CUT OFF FOE

Britain Also Contemplates Direct Shipments by United States.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., July 10.—[Special.]—All joint interest in Liberty bond purchases are in progress between representatives of the British government and the government of commerce, having to pass the partial withdrawal of certain of the belligerents by reason of the imposition of a maximum of the United States government exports from the United States to pass through the British blockade.

The latter is necessary, it was stated, will not be needed in the case of the United States, which is in control of the proclamation of President Wilson placing certain articles under the supervision of the export council, but such articles will continue to be passed in the case of other exports from the United States.

Plan Exchange Policy.

The allied governments are urging an exchange policy which would serve the neutral countries contiguous to Germany, while at the same time stopping their trade with Germany.

The allied plan is to make the neutrals self-sustaining as nearly as possible, so as to prevent the exportation by them of foodstuffs to Germany, and secondarily to make them economically independent of Germany through a system of exchange whereby the allies and America would receive the flow of Dutch and Scandinavian products, which now has its outlet in Germany.

Fear No Reprisals.

The allies entertain no fear of reprisals by Germany against the neutral countries in case the latter are convinced that it would be to their material advantage to trade with Germany.

It was stated by an authority today that what these neutral governments most fear is not invasion by German armies, but attacks from the air, which might destroy their cities and their industries.

TRAINER WILSON'S HERALDRY.

LONDON, July 10.—Lord Rhondda, the food controller, in a statement to the Associated Press today on the emergency proclamation of President Wilson said:

"The comprehensive and effective character of the president's latest action is typical of the way in which the United States has thrown itself heart and soul into the war. It means to me that the additional pressure which will thereby be brought to bear upon our common enemy should go far toward bringing this struggle to an earlier termination."

100 KILLED, MANY INJURED BY AIR RAID ON KRUPP'S

AMSTERDAM, July 10.—Many families of Essen, it is said, have fled in that Rhine workmen who were laid off at the Krupp works on account of the resignation of hostilities in the recent Russian air raid against munitions plants, the Essen plant was destroyed. The Socialist journal Vorwaerts declares that 100 persons were killed and hundreds of others, including forty-five French prisoners, wounded.

One and possibly two French airplanes dropped bombs on Essen that night, the official German report of the raid says, and two British were downed.

$74,600 ELKS PLEDGE AID TO WILSON IN WAR

Detroit, Mich., July 10.—The election of Fred C. Harper of Lynchburg, Va., as grand exalted ruler, the appointment of a committee to wait on President Wilson in Atlantic City, N. J., as the 1918 convention city, and the adoption of a resolution pledging the support of the 615,000 members of the order to President Wilson "in this time of trouble," were the chief business disposed of at today's session of the grand lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

Patrick Powers, former president of the Eastern Baseball association, was elected grand trustee without opposition. Charles A. White of Chicago was named grand treasurer, and Fred Robinson of Dubuque, Ia., grand secretary.

U. S. MAY YET USE ASHBURN FOR AVIATION CAMP

Washington, D. C., July 10.—[Special.]—There is a possibility that Ashburn field, at Chicago, may yet be selected by the war department for the site of an aviators' training camp.

The question was considered today at a conference participated in by Congressman Wheeler W. Wilson, Attorney Garfield Charles of Chicago, and Capt. Edgar of the signal corps.

Capt. Edgar stated that if the city of Chicago will extend the water and sewer system to Ashburn field the site will be given serious consideration. Congressman Wilson said he would bring the conditions laid down by the war department to the attention of the Chicago authorities.

GAMBLERS GORGE WHILE CONGRESS DELAYS FOOD LAW

Farmer Loses and Public Goes Hungry, Hoover Tells President.

Washington, D. C., July 10.—A report on the food situation prepared for President Wilson by Herbert Hoover, holding that both the farmer and the consuming public are suffering while food speculators make unearned profits from the delay in enactment of food control legislation, was given out tonight at the White House.

Unless strong and efficient government action is immediately taken, the food administrator reported, the farmers will face a slump in wheat prices and consumers will be caught in a situation even more serious than that which already is resulting in "actual undernourishment" in the great consuming centers. The speculator, it is declared, is taking a large part of the prices now paid by consumers.

"We are practically helpless to safeguard either the farmer or the consumer," concludes Mr. Hoover, "until the pending legislation is passed."

Congress Blamed for Delay.

No comment by the president accompanied the report, although he has more than once demonstrated his impatience over the repeated delays in congress.

Mr. Hoover's letter in part follows:

"Dear Mr. President: In response to your request I send you herewith the following notes compiled by myself and my associates upon the present situation with regard to wheat:

"1. The 1917 harvest promises to yield 678,000,000 bushels. The normal internal consumption and seed requirements (assuming a carry-over of same value in 1918 as in 1917) amounts to about 600,000,000 bushels, thus leaving a theoretical export balance of 78,000,000 bushels. The conservation measures are already having a marked effect, and it is not too much to hope that the national saving may be 50,000,000 to 100,000,000 bushels, and therefore the export balance increased to, say, 158,000,000 to 130,000,000 bushels.

Profit Only for Speculator.

"2. The experience this year in the rampant speculation, extortionate profits and the prospect of even narrower supplies than 1916 harvest and carry-over, must cause the deepest anxiety. The producer received an average of $1.51 per bushel for the 1916 wheat harvest; yet wheat has been as high as $3.25 at Chicago and the price of flour has been front time to time based upon this speculative price of wheat, so that through one evil cause or another the consumer has suffered from 50 to 100 per cent, and the producer gained nothing.

"It is evident that this unbearable increase in the margin between producer and consumer is due not only to rank speculation, but more largely to the wide margin of profit demanded by every link in the chain.

Must Eliminate Speculator.

"These factors render it vitally necessary to initiate systematic measures which will absolutely eliminate all possibility of speculation, curb extortionate profits, and effect proper distribution and restriction on exports to a point within our own protection. These measures cannot be accomplished by punitive prosecutions of evil-doers, but only by proper and anticipatory organization and regulation all along the distribution chain.

"3. During recent months the allied governments have consolidated their buying into one hand. In a great measure the American producer is left to that buyer's judgment and is without voice.

"In normal circumstances United States and Canadian wheat is moved to Europe largely in the fall months, such shipments averaging about forty million bushels per month and relieving a corresponding flow from the farms into the interior terminals. This year, owing to the shortage of shipping, the allied supplies must proceed over a large period of the year and will not, during the fall months, apparently average over 20,000,000 to 25,000,000 bushels per month.

Producer Faces a Slump.

"We must, therefore, expect a glut in our interior terminals during a considerable period. The financial resources of the grain trade are probably insufficient to carry this extra load without the help of speculators, and, moreover, the consolidation of practically all foreign buying in the hands of the allied buyer has further tended to diminish the resources of capital available by putting a number of firms out of business and limits the financial capital available in export trade.

"The net result of this situation is that unless some strong and efficient government action is immediately settled and brought into play the American producer will face a slump in wheat, and in any event the price of export wheat will be dictated by a single agency and the American consumer will be faced with the situation that a large part of the essential breadstuff has passed into the hands of speculators, for some one must buy and hold not only the normal flow from the farmer but this probable glut.

Flour Instead of Wheat.

"4. With great reduction in the consumption of wheat bread now fortunately in progress, the employment of our mills must be greatly diminished, and with the reduction of domestic flour production our daily feed from wheat residuse will be greatly curtailed. Therefore we must induce foreign buyers to accept flour instead of wheat.

"5. In order to do justice to the producers who have shown great patriotism in a special effort to increase production in 1917, it is absolutely vital that we shall protect the farmer from slump in price this year, due to a glut from the uncontrolled decisions of any one buyer. I am informed that most of the allied countries have fixed the price of wheat to the farmer at $1.60 per bushel, and many of their producers believe that as allies it is our duty to furnish wheat at a price which, delivered to them, will not exceed their domestic price; in other words, about $1.50 per bushel, Chicago.

Need of Speedy Legislation.

"Neither their responsible officials nor I hold this view, because I consider that the stimulation to production, if no other reason, is, in the long run, in the interest of the allies. There is, however, a limit to price which so trespasses upon the rights of the consumer as to defeat its own object. It is with the view to finding a solution to these problems, filled with the greatest dangers to both our producers and consumers, that speedy legislation has been proposed.

"6. Three facts stand out plainly enough from our investigations. First, that in this situation, the farmer will need protection as to the price of wheat; second, that large masses of people in the consuming centers are being actually undernourished due to the cost of living; third, the speculator, legitimate or vicious, has taken a large part of the money now being paid by the consumer.

"7. It seems to be overlooked in some quarters that the marketing of this year's wheat is surrounded with circumstances new to history.

"We are practically helpless to safeguard either the farmer or the consumer until the pending legislation is passed."

Three Organizations Aid.

Churches, canners, and cold storage men of the country clasped hands today with the food administration and pledged their support to the conservation and "win the war" movement which is being conducted by Herbert C. Hoover in advance of the legislation which congress still quarrels about.

Churches of the country, represented by all denominations from all sections,

"FOOD TO WIN WAR"—VROOMAN.

Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of agriculture, who laughingly termed himself "the herald of the administration on food matters," was in Chicago for a few hours yesterday. He found time for a four hour conference with District Attorney Clyne, during which they discussed the food bills pending in congress, and for an interview on the general food situation.

"It's up to America to win the war with her food supply," was the substance of Mr. Vrooman's interview.

"I am about to start on a talking campaign in every state west of the Missouri to point out the exact situation as it is today," said Mr. Vrooman.

"While we are working in the closest conjunction with Mr. Hoover, whose principal problem is the elimination of waste in the kitchen, and is naturally only emergency work, our problem is a colossal one and includes the elimination of waste not only in the kitchen but in the garden, the orchard, the grain fields, the markets, and the retail stores.

"The greatest job America has on hand during the next six months will be to furnish food to our allies.

"There is a world shortage of food and famine is staring every nation in Europe in the face. If we do not succeed in our efforts to stimulate production and eliminate waste here more people will die in Europe in the next year than have been slain in European battlefields during the past year."

FT. SHERIDAN TO BE USED AS GREAT MEDICAL CAMP

Hospital Men to Train There, Officers Hear.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Fort Sheridan, Ill., July 10.—[Special.] At the close of the reserve officers' training camp Fort Sheridan probably will be converted into a base hospital. In that event it will become a training school for the medical units that will go to France and a hospital for the sick and injured who will be sent here from the draft army camps of the central department.

A well defined report to this effect reached the regular army officers here today. It was said to have come directly from the central department headquarters in Chicago. And it also was received with general credence because it supplied the answer to the almost daily question of the use for which the war department is saving this post.

Equipment Available.

The hospital buildings now in use are more than are needed for the officers' camp, and plans already have been approved for the construction of three large ward buildings that will double the capacity. In addition three are the eighty-four buildings now used as barracks.

Exactly one more calendar month will see the close of the instruction period of the present camp. And in spite of some efforts to have a second camp held here, the war department has not altered its announcement that other Illinois men to be trained for commissions will be sent to Leon Springs, Tex., while Michigan and Wisconsin candidates will go to Fort Logan H. Roots, Ark.

Artillery Units Arrive.

With the arrival of Battery F from Urbana about 2 o'clock this afternoon the total for the First Illinois field artillery jumped up to 1,289 men—only one short of full war strength—and about a score reported themselves delayed. Battery C came in yesterday and bright and early this morning Batteries C, D, and E began to detrain. They were followed by Batteries B and A, the latter from Danville. The supply, headquarters, and sanitary companies also were on hand.

The regiment proposes—because of an apparent difficulty in obtaining carpenters speedily—to build its own bathhouses and tent floors. As the camp site was only partly cleared for them, the men will have all the experience of building a camp on untouched ground.

The first day was a busy one, but night saw the camp well established. The rough spots probably will be smoothed out in a week's time.

Capt. Fenton Nicholson, who on Monday married Miss Ermina Carry of Lake Forest, spent the day in drilling his troop of student officers. The war made a honeymoon troop impossible.

FRENCH LINER CALEDONIEN IS SUNK; 51 KILLED

PARIS, July 10.—The French liner Caledonien was sunk by a mine or torpedo in the Mediterranean June 30, according to an announcement issued last night by the ministry of marine. Fifty-one persons were lost and 380 were saved.

U. S. Ship Sent Down.

LONDON, July 10.—The American barkentine Hildegard [632 tons] has been sunk. The crew was landed uninjured. The submarine fired six shots without hitting the vessel, then the crew of ten American citizens took to the boats. The submarine approached and towed the boat back to the Hildegard, which she sank with bombs.

The Germans told the Americans to row for their lives, as they were about to attack another American vessel which was expected along shortly.

The sinking of the Norwegian steamships Henrik and Lovvakken by German submarines is reported in a Central News dispatch from Copenhagen. The crews were saved.

The Norwegian steamship Victoria II., 2,798 tons, was sunk by a German submarine while on the way to the United States. One lifeboat, in which were a number of the crew, was lost.

U-Boat Victims Reach U. S.

An Atlantic Port, July 10.—Nine survivors of the British steamer Parthenia, torpedoed off the British coast several months ago, have arrived here aboard a British steamer. Four of them, Americans, have been sent to New York. The entire crew of the Parthenia was picked up by a trawler and a patrol boat and taken to Glasgow, where they boarded the ship which brought them here.

Second Artillery Is Home from Strike Patrol

Col. Milton J. Foreman's Second Illinois field artillery came home yesterday from their strike duty at Bloomington. The regiment, 880 men, and 54 officers, left the downstate town at noon in an eighteen coach train and landed in the Union depot at 4 o'clock.

They had not fired a shot, but their presence effectually quieted the rioting that followed an inflammatory address by "Mother" Jones in Bloomington last Thursday night.

The five days of field work did more to round the old cavalry regiment into its new work than weeks of armory work could have done and Col. Foreman expressed himself as highly gratified with the efficiency displayed by his command in their overnight mobilization and the four hour "getaway" from Bloomington.

POLICE ORDER CHINA'S ROYAL ARMY FROM CITY

PEKING, via Tien Tsin, July 10.—The imperialist troops under Gen. Chang Hsun, who now are in the Imperial city, retreated there after being defeated by the republican forces with heavy losses near Feng Tai. The republican army is outside the city gates.

Gen Chang Hsun first retreated to the Temple of Heaven, but later led his troops to within the Imperial city. The chief of police and the commander of the gendarmerie have informed Chang Hsun that he must leave the city or they will attack him.

Bombs were again dropped on the imperial palace by an airplane of the republicans. Foreign reinforcements have arrived.

Although there was much noise at the battle of Lang Fang and republicans report the killing of 500 imperialists and the wounding of numerous others, foreign eyewitnesses estimate total casualties at ten on each side. A reward of $100,000 has been placed on Chang Hsun, dead or alive.

2,200,000 British in France—Northcliffe

New York, July 10.—England is now maintaining an army of 2,200,000 men on the French front, aside from other forces in Egypt, Africa, Palestine, Mesopotamia, and at Saloniki, Lord Northcliffe declared today at a luncheon of the Overseas club. "The British navy saved democracy in the early days of the war," he said.

Conference Here Results in Changes in the Specifications.

Chicago has been made the place of the central purchasing agency for the government of meat and packers' supplies during the war.

Announcement of this was made yesterday by the committee on supplies of the council of national defense as a result of a recent conference in Chicago between Julius Rosenwald, chairman, and thirty-five representative packers.

At the suggestion of the quartermaster general's department it is probable that a special committee of the supply committee will be appointed through which the packing industry may make all its government contracts.

Change Specifications.

Another outcome of the conference, which will greatly expedite the delivery of government supplies and result in a vast saving in money and materials, is an agreement whereby the government will make its specifications for various packing commodities conform more nearly with commercial practice than they have in the past.

It was pointed out at the conference here that the government specifications called for cuts and quality of bacon better than the best packers have been able to furnish the best trade under their most highly advertised brands. The result has been that the industry has been quoting only limited quantities at very high prices.

It has also been customary for the army to demand a specially packed can of corned beef, containing thirty-two ounces net weight, although the standard else commercially—the one that can be put up by machinery most economically—contains only twenty-four ounces.

Expense and Delay.

The result has been that the government has had to pay for the extra eight ounces enough extra to double the price per pound for the other two pounds. Moreover, this extra demand always results in a delay in delivery on account of the special preparation necessary of cans and cases.

U. S. BUYS SHOES FOR 11,050,000 FEET

Washington, D. C., July 10.—Contracts for 2,175,000 pairs of army shoes at an average price of $4.73 a pair have just been awarded by the quartermaster's division of the war department. The awards include 950,000 pairs of marching shoes and 1,125 pairs of field shoes. Agreements with twenty-nine manufacturers call for the completion of all deliveries before the end of the year.

Prices were 13 cents a pair lower than those of the first contracts awarded May 29 for 2,600,000 pairs. At that time 850,000 pairs also were ordered for the navy, making 5,525,000 pairs contracted for to date by the government.

With the arrest in East Chicago yesterday of Karl Kaufman, who is suspected of being a German spy, federal authorities believe they have nipped a plot against important munition plants in the Calumet region. At his home were found detailed plans of various factories, including the Inland Steel company, and the Harbison-Walker Refactories company, from which he was discharged a few days ago.

Russian Army Continues to Forge Ahead in Galicia.

RUSSIAN FRONT

RUSSIAN.

PETROGRAD, July 10.—South of Brzezany there has been intense artillery fighting.

In the direction of Dolina the army of Gen. Kornikoff yesterday continued its offensive in the region west of Stanislau. The Austro-Germans displayed energetic resistance, which developed into stubborn counter attacks.

More sanguinary battles occurred on the road to Halics, in the region of the villages of Huciska, Pacykov, and Pavelsche. In the streets of Pavelsche there was bayonet fighting, which ended in a complete rout of the enemy.

Towards evening our troops reached the village of Bukovin, having occupied the villages of Kiktarov, Majdan, Huciska, and Pacykov. The enemy is retreating to the River Lomnica.

Yesterday we made prisoner more than 1,000 Austro-Germans. We also have taken seven field guns, many trench mortars, and machine guns, and a large quantity of engineering material and military stores.

The conduct and daring of our troops is above praise. Our two days' offensive west of Stanislau has resulted in the penetration of the enemy positions to a depth of ten versts.

There have been fusillades and scouting reconnaissances on the rest of the front.

GERMAN.

BERLIN, July 10.—Front of Prince Leopold—Near Riga, Dvinsk, and Smorgon the fighting activity has increased.

Army group of Gen. von Boehm-Ermolli—The Russians between the Stripa and the Dniester were somewhat inactive. Enterprises by our thrusting troops resulted in the capture of prisoners and booty at several places.

At the close of the fighting which developed yesterday northwest of Stanislau, our troops were withdrawn behind the lower course of the Lomnica river.

In the fighting areas of the other armies there were no operations on a large scale.

FRENCH FRONT

FRENCH.

PARIS, July 10.—West of Frolois Farm an enemy surprise attack on one of our small posts was repulsed. The artillery was quite active in the region of Moronvilliers and the sector of Hill 304—La Mort Homme.

DAY STATEMENT.

PARIS, July 10.—Yesterday evening the enemy's bombardment reached a degree of violence in different sectors of the Aisne front. Local attacks on trenches north of the Laffaux mill and southeast of Allies were repulsed by our fire.

Further east at about 9:30 p. m., the enemy made a strong attack on our positions at the Hurtebise monument and The Dragon. His efforts were vain. Unable to approach our line the enemy troops were dispersed, suffering severely.

Surprise attacks on advanced posts southeast of Corbeny, in the vicinity of Courcy, in the sector of Auberive and near Cauriares wood cost the enemy losses and gave him no result. A certain number of prisoners remained in our hands. The night was calm everywhere else.

BRITISH.

LONDON, July 10.—Last night we entered enemy trenches in the neighborhood of Nieuport and inflicted casualties on the garrison. Southeast of Havrincourt and east of Monchy-Le Preux (southeast of Arras) hostile raiding parties were driven off.

The enemy artillery was very active all day against our positions on the coast. Toward evening the fire of the artillery reached a pitch of great intensity. Our artillery is replying vigorously.

AVIATION.

Bad weather again prevented aerial operations by either side yesterday.

DAY STATEMENT.

LONDON, July 10.—Last night we advanced our line slightly east of Oosttaverne (one mile northeast of Wytschaete). South of the Ypres-Comines canal we carried out a successful raid. We captured some prisoners.

BELGIAN.

PARIS, July 10.—In the night the enemy attempted to approach our advanced post south of St. Georges, but was repulsed. The artillery activity was quite marked along the front this morning. In the afternoon lively action occurred from Nieuport as far as south of Dixmude. It was less intense near Steenstraete and Het Sas.

Yesterday the German artillery shelled various localities behind our front and found some victims among the civilian popul[illegible]

G[illegible]

BERLIN, J[illegible] 10.—On the coast, in the Ypres sector, and west of Wytschaete in Flanders the artillery duel attained greater intensity than on the preceding days.

A thrust by English infantry at Hollebeke was repulsed.

Northeast of Messines, near Lens, in the vicinity of Fresnoy and northwest of St. Quentin reconnoitering engagements occurred.

Along the Chemin-des-Dames the intensity of the artillery fire increased. Partial attacks by the French south of Courtecon and southeast of Ceray last night were repulsed.

Nothing important occurred on the front of Duke Albrecht.

ITALIAN FRONT

ITALIAN.

ROME, July 10.—After an intense bombardment last night, the enemy, taking advantage of a violent thunder storm, attacked our positions on the Vodice. His assaulting parties were destroyed by our fire, which prevented the supporting forces from making an advance. In the same manner we frustrated other small attacks against our positions in the Upper Cordevole and on Piccolo Lagasuoi.

The artillery was more active than usual yesterday on the Trentino and Carnia fronts and normal on the Julian front. The activity of reconnoitering parties on both sides led to sharp encounters. An enemy party which approached our lines on the Vodice was repulsed promptly.

FRENCH.

PARIS, July 10.—British aviators bombarded Petrenik. Patrol engagements took place on the Struma front. The enemy artillery violently bombarded our positions at the Cerna bend.

GERMAN.

BERLIN, July 10.—The situation is unchanged.

ROUMANIAN FRONT

RUSSIAN.

PETROGRAD, July 10.—There is no change in the situation.

TURKISH FRONT

RUSSIAN.

PETROGRAD, July 10.—There is no change in the situation.

AVIATION

GERMAN.

BERLIN, July 10.—The results of the engagements with enemy aerial forces during the month of June were good.

Our enemies lost 220 airplanes and 33 captive balloons through the effect of our weapons. Our anti-aircraft guns shot down sixty enemy airmen. The remainder were brought down in aerial fighting.

Our losses were 68 airplanes and three captive balloons.

SUPPLEMENTARY

AUSTRO-GERMAN LINE CUT

1—Petrograd reports that below Brzezany an intense artillery action is in progress.

2—Petrograd reports Austro-German line broken between Halics and the Carpathians. An unofficial report says Halicz has been captured by the Russians and that the Germans in this sector have been routed after hand to hand fighting.

ROOT CERTAIN RUSSIA WILL WEATHER STORM

Nation's Greatest Need Is Money, Envoy of U. S. Says.

PETROGRAD, July 10.—The American commission headed by Elihu Root has completed a month's survey of all the phases of the Russian situation. The commission is confident in the belief that the nation will successfully emerge from its internal difficulties and be able to redirect its forces toward the energetic pursuance of the war.

Mr. Root made the following statement to the Associated Press:

"The mission has accomplished what it came here to do, and we are greatly encouraged. We found no organic or incurable malady in the Russian democracy. Democracies are always in trouble and we have seen days just as dark in the progress of our own.

Greatest Need Is Money.

"We must remember that a people in whom all constructive effort has been suppressed for so long cannot immediately develop a genius for quick action. The first stage is necessarily one of debate.

"The solid, admirable traits in the Russian character will pull the nation through the present crisis. Natural love of law and order and capacity for local self-government have been demonstrated every day since the revolution. The country's most serious lack is money and adequate transportation. We shall do what we can to help Russia in both."

The optimistic conclusions of the commission are not derived alone from consultations with the governmental heads, but are based more largely upon the spirit and determination of the people which has been encountered in public organizations, political and industrial councils, and in all the delegations properly representative of the temper of the nation as a whole.

There is, however, no disposition on the part of the commission to minimise either the dangers threatened by the widespread German propaganda and pacifism agitation or the practical difficulties in the way of transportation and the reorganization of Russia's economic life. The question of the food supply is, in the opinion of the commission, the most important problem confronting the country and unless some means is immediately taken to improve transport fall and winter will see famine in many places.

Create New Parliament.

An important step toward the consolidation of Russia's democracy and the strengthening of the Lvoff cabinet is the creation of a "central executive committee," sitting at Petrograd under the presidency of M. C. Tcheidse. This committee will act as the representative of the Pan-Russian congress of the Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' delegates, of whom M. Tcheidse is the head.

The central committee consists of 300 members, fifty of whom were elected by the Petrograd Council of Delegates, which, therefore, continues to play an important rôle. The Petrograd council and all the provincial councils continue to exist, but are made responsible to the central committee.

Thus is created an all-Russian democratic parliament, which will wield the power until the constituent assembly organises permanent representative institutions.

Kermit Roosevelt Gets Place in British Army

Plattsburg, N. Y., July 10.—Kermit Roosevelt, a son of the former president, has received a cablegram containing an offer, which he has accepted, of a staff commission with the British army operating against the Turks in Asia Minor. He was granted his discharge from the officers' training camp here and, accompanied by his wife, left for Oyster Bay to visit his father before sailing on Saturday for Spain.

FRENCH FULL OF FIGHT.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

FRENCH FRONT IN FRANCE, July 9.—[Delayed.]—The French troops holding the sector of the Chemin-des-Dames to the south of Pilain, although drenched to the skin and mud covered from head to foot, were full of confidence and cheerfulness today when the correspondent went among them.

They had just repulsed an attack of the most formidable nature, in which the Germans sustained shocking losses without obtaining more than a temporary foothold in these constantly contested positions.

The sector in question comprises the Pantheon farm, astride the Chemin-des-Dames, and is menaced at all times because of the domination of it by the ancient Fort De Malmaison, which is in the hands of the Germans.

Sudden Rush Stopped.

Early this morning the Germans opened a most intense bombardment of the French lines, and while the hurricane of shells was still falling a German force comprising from ten to twelve infantry battalions made a sudden rush into the French positions.

A brigade of the famous Chasseurs-a-Pied had occupied the sector and was holding the line firmly. The Frenchmen, however, were forced to fall back before the overwhelming numbers which followed on the heels of the German shock units, brought especially from other points of the line to lead the attack.

The Germans apparently considered their success certain, as they brought with them quantities of barbed wire, trench mortars, boxes of grenades, and flame throwers, and everything necessary to the rapid organization of the captured position, which, if held, would give them command of a large section of the Chemin-des-Dames.

Germans Are Rejected.

They failed, however, to take the French spirit into their reckoning. Immediately after a slight recoil the French chasseurs, aided by engineers and reservists employed in road making in the rear, organized counter attacks and despite the most desperate resistance ejected or killed most of the German interlopers, capturing large quantities of their material and reestablishing the line almost entirely.

SENATE AGREES ON JULY 21 FOR FOOD BILL VOTE

Gore Substitute for the Present Measure May Be Accepted.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., July 10.—[Special.] The senate will vote on the food control bill and all pending amendments at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, July 21. A unanimous consent agreement on the date for the vote was reached by the senate today after a morning of conferences, in which all factions had part.

At the same time that Senator Chamberlain, in charge of the bill, made his request for fixing a time to vote, he asked permission to withdraw the motion filed by him yesterday for cloture. This was granted.

Almost immediately following the agreement to vote July 21, the members of the senate committee on agriculture left the senate chamber to meet in their committee room for the purpose of trying to adjust the differences and to eliminate the parts of the bill to which serious objection has arisen.

Gore Offers Substitute.

A substitute for the entire bill, prepared by Senator Gore and other senators, was before the committee and was discussed informally. The Gore substitute limits the operation of the bill in its main features to wheat, flour, meal, potatoes and coal.

It contains a drastic coal provision which would authorize the president, if necessity arose, to take over and operate the coal mines of the country.

The opposition which has manifested itself in the senate to a "food dictator" for the country is revealed in the machinery which the substitute bill proposes to control the food supplies. A board of food administration is created, consisting of the secretary of agriculture and two other members to be appointed by the president and confirmed by the senate.

Bee Victory for New Bill.

The liquor section of the bill prohibits the use of food and feeds in the manufacture of distilled spirits, prohibits the importation of distilled spirits, and puts up to the president the question as to whether the manufacture of beer and wines is to be stopped in the future. There is also a provision authorizing the president to commandeer all or any part of the distilled spirits now in bond, pay their owners for them; the spirits so taken to be used for hospital purposes or for redistillation to manufacture munitions.

It is innocent of the Smoot amendment, which directs the president to take over all the distilled spirits, and which has been pronounced by many senators unconstitutional since its adoption.

Following the meeting of the committee one of the senators who has supported the food control bill through thick and thin said he believed such a substitute might be adopted not only by the committee but by the senate. The feeling in the senate has become so strong against various features of the pending bill that there is real reason to believe it would be defeated if it came to a vote in its present form.

Insist on Bar to Whisky.

Whether the prohibition section of the bill can be reopened, even by offering a substitute bill, was questioned by some of the senators, in view of the unanimous consent agreement under which the present section was adopted Saturday. This agreement stated plainly that after the vote had been taken it was to be considered final.

Senator Kenyon of Iowa took the position that the section could not be reopened and that the section as it stands would have to be incorporated in a substitute bill and left to the conference committee to thrash out.

ARMY OFFICER SEIZES GUNMAN AFTER SHOOTING

Lieut. E. M. Dodds of the United States engineers' officer reserve corps yesterday commandeered a passing automobile and captured Tony Panic, 817 South Clinton street, who had shot and severely wounded Theodore Otgren, 5136 South Carpenter street. Lieut. Dodds received his commission from the war department about an hour before the shooting occurred.

He was in front of a building under construction at Robey and Thirty-seventh street when he heard the firing and saw Panic run. At the same time William Schroeder, 3240 West Congress street, passed in his automobile. The soldier hailed him, boarded the car, and sped down the street. Dodds fired four shots in the air before Panic was overtaken at Thirty-seventh street and Oakley avenue.

Otgren was shot in the left side. He was foreman in charge of the construction work of the building and had discharged Panic, a hodcarrier. Panic was handed over to the police, but refused to make a statement. Otgren may die.

COL. GREEN WEDS; HONEYMOON ON YACHT AT SEA

Merry Little Party at Highland Park; $625,000 Gifts.

After a courtship which lasted for fifteen years, Col. Edward H. R. Green, only son of the late Mrs. Hetty Green, was married at noon yesterday to Miss Mabel Harlow, niece of Mrs. George H. Campbell of Highland Park. Col. Green, who has confessed to receiving 9,000 proposals, has married the 9,001th—the one who did not propose.

As a wedding present Col. Green presented his bride with a check for $500,000 and $125,000 in Liberty bonds.

Col. Green, when asked concerning these gifts, said:

"You want to know if I gave Mrs. Green a block of Liberty bonds as a wedding present? You would better ask her, there she is. She ought to know. She knows everything. It seems as if you reporters don't care about me any more. That's right; she is the one in charge."

The reporter turned to Mrs. Green.

"O, ask him—I mean Edward," she said, overcome with confusion. "Well, if he referred you to me. Yes, good old Liberty bonds worth $125,000 and $500,000 in cash, as a wedding present."

Towers Above Crowd.

After the Episcopal service had been performed by the Rev. F. G. Wolcott of Trinity church, the colonel led his bride and the twenty wedding guests out on to the front porch of the Campbell residence in Sheridan road and, towering above the crowd, boomed to the assembled photographers to "shoot so that all the world can see what a pretty wife I have."

After the pictures were taken Col. Green turned to his best man, Joseph Cremin.

"I want to thank you for helping me become the happiest man in the world today," he said, slapping his friend on the shoulder. "I'll say good-by now. We are off on our trip on the yacht."

"But we are coming back," interposed Mrs. Green. "I am coming back to visit my aunt. I'm not through with Chicago."

Mrs. Green was a pretty bride, with hair of a reddish tone touched with sunshine, and blue eyes which didn't seem to mind when the colonel ordered them to look into his. Her wedding gown was simple, of white georgette crepe, with a rather full skirt and a little embroidery.

A $10,000 Ring One Gift.

A single strand of pearls and the wedding ring, a band of gold, were the only jewelry she wore, but her aunt told of a wonderful $10,000 diamond ring, one of the colonel's gifts to his bride.

Mrs. Fred Stafford of 1330 Elmdale avenue was the bride's only attendant.

Mrs. John Martin Taylor of Riverside drive, New York, a cousin of Col. Green, was his only relative present. Mrs. Wilks, his sister, wired at the last minute she had been detained by the illness of her husband.

The colonel and the party were in the best of spirits—seldom has there been a jollier little wedding.

The couple took the 5:30 Pennsylvania train for New York, where they will board the colonel's yacht, "United States," and sail for "somewhere"—they admitted they had fibbed about the Caribbean wedding voyage.

CREEL AND YARN ON NAVAL SCRAP TARGET IN HOUSE

Walsh Condemns Methods Used by the Censor in July 4 Story.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., July 10.—[Special.]—The admitted elaboration of the account of the attack by German submarines on ships transporting United States troops across the Atlantic by George Creel, official censor, was discussed in the house today by Representative Walsh of Massachusetts.

"It may have been poetic license or probably an imagination aroused by the approach of the nation's holiday on July 4, that prompted the transcription of official reports," Representative Walsh said.

Why Tell Germans Locations?

"We have exemplified what would possibly occur should we authorize any sort of censorship in any measure which may come before the congress, when the gentleman who is in charge of the bureau of information [Mr. Creel], founded upon somewhat doubtful authority, as I view it, was asked to give the official news he stated that if he did that, as I understand the press reports, he might disclose the latitude and longitude where this attack of U-boats was made upon our fleet, as if, perchance, the captains of the U-boats were interested in knowing the latitude and longitude of the ship which they were at that moment attacking.

"I say that method of arousing and seeking to frighten the people of America by transposing official news is to be condemned and ought to be looked into. We should take all steps necessary in order that we should not be annoyed by any such fancy tales or accounts made public in order to give the American people a happy American holiday. To do things like that will have an ill effect upon our people and cause them unnecessary apprehension and terror.

Withheld Press Reports.

"As a matter of fact, as I understand it, the Associated Press had a correspondent accompanying our troops. He sent dispatches to this country which were intercepted and were not delivered until they were taken to one of the executive departments, inspected, and possibly—I do not know—censored, and they were delayed for several hours.

"Those dispatches simply related what took place and possibly because they did not correspond with the highly tinged account which had been published and which bore the approval of one of the secretaries of one of the executive departments of this government, they were withheld from those for whom they were intended and to whom they were addressed.

"That is another exercise of assumed or pretended censorship that the American people ought not tolerate."

"Our Country! In her intercourse with foreign nations may she always be in the right; but our country, right or wrong."
—Stephen Decatur.

"WE MUST FIGHT AND CONQUER."

From Bern comes the report that Berlin newspapers quote Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg as follows:

"I repeat that the formula of peace without annexations is unacceptable to us. We cannot declare our terms of peace. We must fight and conquer."

If this is the German will today, America can give but one answer: "We must fight and conquer."

The German chancellor's words—if these were his words and we shall soon know—are all the challenge we need, if we need further challenge. They strip off the mask of defense from German purpose and show the world the clenched fist.

"We cannot declare our terms of peace." In other words, we will take what we can and we will keep what we get. We are warring not to defend ourselves, we are warring to "conquer."

This is a reply to the president's call to make safe the world for democracy—a blow in the face with the mailed hand. "We cannot declare our terms of peace"—because we intend that they shall be formed according to the measure of our triumphant sword. We must fight to conquer.

The American people will meet that challenge. We do not propose to sit under the growing shadow of a military empire, whose power is welded and wielded by a military caste under an autocrat scornful of democracy and not answerable in international ambition to his own people. We desire peace, but not a pax Germanica. We still desire peace, but never a peace dictated by a world conqueror.

Furthermore, we do not propose to be lulled to sleep while the opponents of the German will to conquer are putting their breasts between us and its mailed might. The American people are of peaceful habit, optimistic, procrastinating. But they can make war with a will and they have no mind to bow before the will of others. We are not so slothful that we shall wait our turn to be overthrown and enslaved. We are going to fight and fight until world conquest has gone into the limbo of all past madnesses of kings.

We do not yet know that the German chancellor has sent forth this challenge. But we know that until German purposes are made clear to be compatible with our own honor, safety, and future peace and prosperity, there is but one thing for us to do, and that is to beat the German bayonets down. We know, too, that it is for the German government to speak out if it wants an endurable peace, a peace compatible with our own will to live as freemen in this world. Germany may still be obsessed with the dream of world conquest. If she is she is on the brink of an abyss. If she is not let her speak now in rational terms, let her speak not as the drunken barbarian or an insane egotist, but as a decent member of the society of civilized nations.

ANARCHIST "MARTYRS."

Sentenced to serve two years in federal penitentiaries, Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman are trying to make a final plea for public sympathy by posing as martyrs to a good cause. It would be an amusing spectacle, if they were not typical of other "reds" whose livelihood has depended on our national indulgence.

For years we have permitted the Goldmans and the Berkmans to buy their bread and butter with anarchistic propaganda. For their purposes our tolerance has been almost too great, because the notoriety of arrest was always their best advertisement. On the other hand, they did not have the nerve to endure the rigors of fighting the autocracy of Russia, though it was the land of their birth. They emigrated to America to make money by noisy talk, leaving their countrymen the hard task of creating a free Russia.

Now that the Russians, without assistance from them, have accomplished the revolution, our American Russians of the Goldman-Berkman school are going back to Russia for the purpose, we assume, of creating further anarchy that will permit them to share in the spoils. It is this class of "reds" that is traducing the American republic and trying to bring it into disrepute, both in Russia and in this country.

If they had remained in Russia they would have accepted the Russian rule in craven silence or else suffered exile. But they came to America, profited by her easy tolerance, and now seek to discredit her name or overthrow her government in her hour of trial.

The Russian people can be thankful, as the American people are thankful, that Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman are about to take a little vacation at the expense of the United States government.

THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

If the secret records of the brewing and distilling industries were ever brought to light they would tell a story of social and political corruption unequaled in the annals of our history. If the veritable narrative of the American saloon were ever written, it would make the decadence of Rome look like an age of pristine purity in comparison.

Whisky, wine, and beer never caused half as much injury to society as the manufacturers and purveyors of these beverages. If these men have not made a practice of committing murder and arson it is because these crimes did not seem immediately profitable. The liquor business has been the faithful ally of every vicious element in American life; it has protected criminals, it has fostered the social evil, and it has bribed politicians, juries, and legislatures.

The inherent corruption has extended even to the so-called decent saloons. There are few that do not serve adulterated products, and it is an unusual proprietor that is not more pleased when his patrons are getting drunk than when they keep sober. Philip drunk stays longer and spends more money than Philip sober. That is one reason the saloon would rather sell ardent spirits than beer; they are more intoxicating.

We have been speaking of the "decent" saloon; the other variety is almost unspeakable. The smallest count in the indictment against the evil barroom is its persistent evasion of the law. We are not surprised to read that numerous Cook county roadhouses are operating without licenses, that they keep open on Sunday, or that they seem to exercise a mysterious control over public officials. Yet these are only minor offenses in the calendar of saloon iniquities.

The brewers have at times tried, or said they would try, to clean up the saloon business. The head of a great St. Louis brewery often told his confreres that it was the brewers' only salvation. The theory was accepted, but the practice was always to expend every energy to sell one more keg of beer, even if it had to be sold to bootleggers and resort keepers.

It is for these reasons that the prohibition movement has gained such strength. The demand for the abolition of the liquor traffic is the expression of a ripening conviction that it is conducted by nefarious means for nefarious ends.

"After us the deluge," seems to have been the philosophy of the liquor men—but now the deluge seems to be on the point of breaking.

A WAR COUNCIL.

"Politically and administratively Mr. Wilson needs decentralization."

In this characteristically pungent sentence Mr. William Hard gives the gist of the situation in Washington. THE TRIBUNE is of Mr. Hard's opinion and has been urging as emphatically as is compatible with its desire to give the government cordial support that the president realize this basic fact and correct it to the best of his ability. We have suggested the advisability of a coalition cabinet. We have begged Mr. Wilson to strengthen his administrative machinery by courageous weeding out and by strong new appointments. Mr. Hard's discerning analysis of conditions squares with our own observation, and we hope the truth is coming home to those to whom the president will attend—if there are any such.

"He," says Mr. Hard, "cannot give us political unity or administrative unity any longer in his own person. Politically he needs, somehow, in a manner consistent with our native politics, a 'coalition.' Administratively he needs an authoritative defense or war council. The 'coalition' would bind the nation together. The council would bind Gen. Goethals and Mr. Denman and Mr. Baker and Mr. Lane and Mr. Baruch and all our other administrators together by policies determined competently beforehand and then enforced throughout all departments and committees harmoniously."

The war council we believe to be even more necessary than the coalition, at least for the time being. A coalition cabinet might be infected by partisanism, though we do not believe it would be. Mr. Wilson's persistent partisanship may be accepted now, however, as a bar to the coalition idea and we suspect a considerable pressure of misfortune will be necessary to dislodge it from his policy. A war council ought to be more promptly obtainable.

The discount on this proposal is in Mr. Wilson's unwillingness or inability to call to the highest service the highest type of men, and then to empower them fully. The advisory board of the council of national defense not only is weaker in personnel than it ought to be but it has not the authority it must have to carry on policies firmly in the face of congressional attack.

This attack, which already has begun and is certain to increase, ought to wake Mr. Wilson. He has had personal experience with the congressional system, he has presumably historical knowledge of our past war conditions, sufficient to warn him that congressmen are not going to give up the advantage of war contract making and war expenditure if they can help it. They are going to watch for administrative mistakes and they are going to attack plausibly, and, many of them, without much scruple. At the same time there are disloyal elements which are going to fall in behind this attack with all their might.

There is but one way for the president to win and that is to get rid of the partisan, sectional, and personal predilections which seem to have influenced many of his important appointments, and to make a straight-out appeal for general public support by a thorough reformation of his administrative machinery. If disregarding party lines and scorning the cheap demagogy which the congressional attack inclines to, he will summon the chief men in the industrial, financial, scientific, professional, and political fields to his counsels, we are certain a "war council" can be made up from such a body which will command the confidence and hearty patriotic cooperation of the entire American people, to say nothing of putting an end to the hopes of log rolling reactionaries.

WHEATLESS DAYS.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley advocates two wheatless days a week. It is a good idea. We have an abundance of corn and other cereals, while there is likely to be a shortage of wheat. Dr. Wiley estimates that if the United States consumed no wheat for two days each week it would mean an annual saving of 141,000,000 bushels. Corn bread is an excellent substitute for wheat bread, and corn meal is cheaper than flour besides.

HOW'LL YOU TRADE, CHICAGO?

[From the Minneapolis Tribune.]

Never mind, Chicago, old top; we sympathize keenly with you for those furious blushes over the capers of your "Big Bill" and your "Billy" Mason and your Fred Britten and your Fred Lundin, but we all know that while you are enduring a rush of blood to the cheeks, the quartet that plagues you is bleeding itself white politically.

Remembering how you have furnished volunteers for the flag, how you showed your patriotism toward the Liberty loan, how you were your heart on your sleeve for the Red Cross, how wildly glad you were to see "Papa" Joffre, and how you have handed it right, left, and center to the aforesaid quartet, we know that you are all right.

You may be the sixth German city, as "Big Bill" said when he threw cold water on your warm desire to see Joffre, but we know that you need not take off your hat to any other town when it comes to your being an American city. You would have been all right in the opinion of your sister cities even if "Big Bill" hadn't given you a tardy consent to go into the city hall to take subscriptions for the Liberty loan.

Minneapolis was doing some tall blushing, too, a little while ago, but she has quite recovered from her annoying self-consciousness. Perhaps she is a bit readier than you to see a joke when it comes down the street or appears in the Congressional Record and is passed along to the folks at home under a government frank.

We might trade you Ernie for "Billy," or what have you?

"DEARIE."

They love me better than you, Fenelle,
Those stately ladies who call you "Girlie";
For whether I'm buying gloves or umbrella,
Or something to make my straight locks curly—
Saleslad ies brisk or saleslad ies weary,
Every one of them calls me "Dearie."

"Girlie" strikes one as cold and formal,
(Although they say it so cheerily);
Surely I would seem hardly normal
Not to be pleased when they "dearie" me.
And though I have gray in my golden tresses,
It makes no difference in their addresses.

I know I cannot be past all loving;
Their fervent greeting assures me that.
Though single blessedness still I'm proving,
And though I am forty and old and fat,
My earthly lot seems much less dreary,
Since all the saleslad ies call me "Dearie."

"Girlie," of course, implies youth's beauty,
A sweet implication; but think how cheery
To know that even the clerks on duty
Love you enough to call you "Dearie."

ARMS AND THE CIG.

(From The New Republic.)

The profession of arms in this country at least is losing its traditional charm. Men in uniform must not be served intoxicating liquors. Commissions are appointed to provide healthful and denatured amusements for the cantonments of the National Army. The swashbuckler may no longer swash—and now if he be of the New York National Guard he may no longer smoke on the street. General O'Ryan's order insisting upon the observance of military courtesy and his injunction that officers and men keep their blouses buttoned are both timely and necessary. But the idea that a man may no longer smoke a cigarette on the street in order, forsooth, that he may have to obey a disagreeable order, and so learn that disagreeable orders must be obeyed, is preposterous. The General thinks it will make for discipline. The General is wrong. Discipline in any case imposes severe restraint upon the individual. Without discipline there can be no army. But orders should have their genesis in some necessity of the service. This order does not.

EDITOR RATHOM earned the imperishable regard of this country when he "listened in" on Bill Bryan and Herr Dumba, and thereby precipitated a vacancy in the office of secretary of state.

Actions Speak Louder than Names.

Sir: Have you observed the militaristic sparrow take from the pacifistic robin the juicy worms which the latter had laboriously collected for his wide-mouthed progeny? A COMMON PICTURE.

HERE is a picture that a great many mothers have seen. A child in its second year suffers alternately from diarrhea and constipation. It is never very well. During the diarrhea days there are five or ten loose bowel movements a day and the child is somewhat pulled down, but at that the condition can scarcely be called a diarrhea. There are no watery bowel movements. There is not the general air of acute or grave illness. The stools are light in color. They usually contain mucus. There may be a little blood.

During the period of constipation it may be noted that there is mucus in the stool. If the stools are examined closely it is found that they are greasy, containing fat globules, crystals, and soaps.

If the temperature is taken it is found that the child is free from fever. He is under weight, pale, anaemic, slow mentally, pot-bellied, and flabby.

The picture is one that is frequently seen. If the case is inquired into more closely it is generally discovered that the child has had a good deal of bowel disturbance during the first year of life, or maybe it has had some form of contagious disease. If the urine be examined probably an odor of ammonia will be noted.

Dr. John Poote, who writes of this condition in the International Clinics, thinks that it is a chronic indigestion in the first part of the small intestine. The pancreatic secretion, intestinal juice, and bile are insufficient in quantity.

The remedy consists in the main in changing the food. Milk, and especially cream, is at fault. The child should be changed to skim milk or buttermilk and malt extract. He can cautiously take other foods, but they should not contain much fat. If toast is given it should be crisp and not buttered. If cereals are given cream should not be served with them. Vegetable soups and vegetables should not be greasy. If finely chopped meat is given it should be thoroughly lean. If potatoes are given they should not be served with gravy.

It may be necessary to wean from the bottle, though most of these children can get along with the bottle if buttermilk replace sweet milk.

In the olden time we had a rule of thumb way of measuring these pot-bellied second year children. (We said they had had too much milk and we cured the condition by weaning them. This was not so far from the right way after all.

After a moderate respite from milk fat the indigestion rights itself. Before very long butter can be cautiously added to the diet—say, butter on the toast, or pastose, or cereal.

PROBABLY OVERFEEDING.

R. C. L. writes: "What will you suggest as food for this child of 1 year? He has just cut his seventh tooth. He is lusty and strong as his temperature taking alone yet, however, but trying to stand all the time. Weighs somewhere near twenty-three pounds. He is not constipated. The only trouble he has is an eczema on his face which causes him to scratch. The doctors pronounce it a teething rash. He is a cheerful, happy baby.

"He is now fed one quart of milk (pasteurized) daily, six dessert spoons of Mellin's food, one cup of orange juice and water every afternoon. But at meals (he is brought to the table) is our trouble. He seems hungry at the sight of food—is fairly crazy for the little that is given him—a soft boiled egg he had at one meal was thrown up afterward.

"There is a fear on the part of the parents of overfeeding. What do you suggest? How much of bacon—or potato—if any?

"How much water can a child of this age have in a day—a cupful?"

REPLY.

I think you are overfeeding. Overfeeding is the most frequent cause of teething rashes. Cut out the Mellin's food. Reduce the quantity of milk one third or one half and add a half. Make up the deficiency by giving a hard boiled egg or an egg and a bowl mashed potato and gravy, a little finely chopped vegetables, particularly spinach, asparagus carrots, beets, and a little finely chopped meat, preferably lean. Give him as much water as he wishes.

DISPOSITION INJURED.

J. F. H. writes: "Kindly advise me on the following: We have a 2 year old son who fell out of a high chair at the age of 8 months and was stunned into insensibility. An examination by a physician showed no injury, but since that, upon slight injury or fit of temper, cries and holds his breath until he can't recover it. Upon dashing cold water on his face he comes out of the spasm, but appears white and weak. He has had such a spasm every day for the last three days after skipping six months. He is the picture of rosy, rugged health, but will these spasms, if continued, sap his strength? How can we cure him?"

REPLY.

My guess is that the explosion is this: After the injury you scold and startle the child. Now it is startled from a violent, uncontrolled temper. The next time he holds his breath throw cold water on him and then paddle him a few. When he finds that you are no longer afraid of him he will become afraid of you. At that stage you can begin to establish proper relations with your son.

PALATE IS DOWN—PERHAPS?

R. E. M. writes: "Kindly inform me through your column what should be done when one's "palate is down."

REPLY.

First, be certain it is down. Nine times in ten the trouble is with the tonsils. In very rare instances there may be trouble from an elongated palate. The usual symptom is a hacking cough. If necessary, the long palate should be cut off.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY

[Copyright, 1917, by the Reynolds Co.]

GLASGOW'S ancient university, founded in 1450 by Bishop Turnbull under a bull of Pope Nicholas V., and highly endowed by Queen Mary, daughter of Henry VIII., is taking the necessary steps to invite President Wilson to accept the office of its lord rector in October next on the conclusion of the term of its present incumbent. The latter is Raymond Poincaré, president of the French republic, and it seems peculiarly fitting and appropriate that the chief magistrate of France should be succeeded at Glasgow by the chief magistrate of the United States.

The office of lord rector of Glasgow university is an elective one, the students, the alumni, and the faculty all taking part in the vote, and it is always bestowed upon some great statesman or celebrated personage whom the university desires to particularly honor. It has been held by the late Lord Salisbury, by Gladstone, by Lord Rosebery, and by Arthur Balfour.

President Poincaré was the first executive of any foreign nation to hold the lord rectorship, which does not require any oath of allegiance to the British crown.

Now that President Poincaré has led the way, there is no reason why President Wilson should not follow. Indeed, he is in many respects better qualified for the office, being of Scottish ancestry, through which he has a number of Scottish kinsfolk, some of them occupying high positions in the United Kingdom, as, for instance, the Most Rev. Dr. Cosmo Gordon Lang, a native of Glasgow, a graduate of its university, and now primate of England as archbishop of York. The archbishop of Canterbury is primate of all England, the qualification of "all" distinguishing the one primacy from the other.

Mrs. W. B. Leeds of New York, in taking the lease of Ken Wood off the hands of Grand Duke Michael Michaelaiovitch of Russia, has relieved him of a heavy embarrassment, since it is a large mansion, or rather palace, surrounded by a large park, in the outskirts of London, and requires a lot of money to keep it up. The grand duke has been hard hit by the recent revolution in Russia, which has deprived him not only of his appanage from the crown property but also of the revenues of his extensive private estates.

In olden times Ken Wood was a hunting lodge of the lord bishop of London. During the commonwealth it belonged to Sir James Harrington, the regicide, and among its owners have been a duke of Argyll, an earl of Bute, and John Bill, the founder of the London Gazette.

In 1755 it was purchased by the first earl of Mansfield, the founder of the commercial code of law of England, upon which that of most of the states of the American union is based.

The southern front of Ken Wood stands high upon a broad terrace, from which the ground falls rapidly across two immense lawns to a couple of pretty lakes, surrounded by trees and shrubs. Beyond these lakes the ground rises sharply to a ridge, covered by a small copse or forest of magnificent old trees, which cut off the smoke of London.

Ken Wood narrowly escaped destruction in 1780 at the hands of the Gordon rioters, who after burning down Lord Mansfield's town house at Bloomsbury, hastened to Ken Wood, with the intention of looting it, and of subjecting it to a similar fate.

The route taken by the rabble was through Hampstead. But when they reached the Spaniards inn the landlord persuaded them to rest awhile in order to refresh themselves. Secretly he sent a messenger for a detachment of the horse guards, and when the soldiers arrived the rioters found it prudent to abandon their intention.

Alexander Pope often visited Ken Wood, and his fellow poet, Edward Cox, in verses addressed "To the Muses," wrote:

"And late when Mansfield deigned to rove
Beneath Ken Wood's sequestered grove
They wandered off when all was still
With him and Pope on Hampstead hill."

When Mansfield bought the place the mansion was dilapidated and the grounds neglected. So he determined on a general reconstruction and called in the famous brothers Adam. Under their direction the house was entirely rebuilt. The second earl of Mansfield added two wings to the north. But the south side is still as the Adams left it.

Mansfield also ordered ceilings by Zucchi and secured sculptures of Bernini, Guelfi, and Nollekens. Most of the decorations and furniture are of typical Adam design, and the great library, now known as the Adam room, is declared to be the finest specimen of their art.

The grand duke, who took Ken Wood on a ninety-nine years lease from Lord Mansfield, has had it for seven years and spent large sums of money in improvements. In 1835 William IV. and Queen Adelaide, accompanied by the Waterloo Duke of Wellington, paid a semi-state visit to Ken Wood, and last year King George, Queen Mary, and the whole of the British royal family were there for the purpose of attending the wedding of Grand Duke Michael's younger daughter, Countess Nada Torby, to young George of Battenberg, who is a lieutenant in the English navy.

Benedict XV. has lately issued a decree through the holy office strictly prohibiting members of the Roman Catholic church from assisting and attending at any spiritist manifestations and communications, through or without a medium, no matter whether hypnotism be used or not. The pontiff insists that even when spiritism is presented in the guise of piety and for the purpose of interrogating souls or spirits, or listening to answers, or simply looking on, it is a sin in the eyes of the Roman Catholic church. The decree, which has only just been published at Rome, bears the date of April 27, 1917.

A careful inventory is now being made of the contents of all the hundreds of palaces, castles, and villas belonging to the reigning house of Austria-Hungary, in order to determine what were the private possessions of the late Emperor Francis Joseph, and what belong to the crown.

During the three score years or more of his protracted reign the late emperor's property got considerably scattered, in all his many residences of one kind and another, and as this private property of his forms part of the estate which he has divided between his eldest daughter, Archduchess Gisela, wife of Prince Leopold of Bavaria, his younger and his favorite daughter, Archduchess Maria Valerie, wife of Archduke Francis Salvator, and Princess Elisabeth Windischgraetz, only child of his ill fated son, the late Crown Prince Rudolf, it is necessary to ascertain the exact ownership.

CONDITIONS HAVE BEEN REMEDIED.

Chicago, July 9.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Will you kindly find out why the wholesale fish markets on North Union avenue, between Fulton and Lake streets, are permitted to throw their decayed fish, old packing boxes, and broken barrels into the street?

The street cleaner, employed by the city, carries this refuse to our side of the street and deposits it in piles. It remains there until carried away by the city wagon.

During the time it lies in the gutter it emits a disagreeable odor and in the summer time it is a menace to health. Why does the city street department permit this violation of the law and why does the city health department not interfere?

TENANTS FINANCE CHAIRMAN BUILDING.

Conditions have been remedied by the cleaning of the loading station to another location.

ALLEY IS PRIVATE PROPERTY.

Chicago, July 9.—[To the Friend of the People.]—May we have your assistance in having removed from the alley west of Wilton avenue, between Grace street and Sheridan road, ashes, paper, tin cans, and other refuse which is being dumped there?

By whose authority has the Horace Greeley school appropriated the alley just west of the Northwestern elevated track and which alley should, we believe, open up on Grace street? The closing up of this alley makes it necessary for the residents of Wilton avenue between Grace and Sheridan road to place the garbage and ashes on the front lawns for collection.

SUBSCRIBER.

The superintendent of the Twenty-fifth ward reports that notice has been served on offending parties to desist from practice complained of. The alley complained of is a blind alley seventy-five feet in length and ashes and garbage are removed by the street can system for this reason.

SUBWAY PLANNED FOR DANGEROUS CROSSING.

La Grange, Ill., July 8.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I wish to call attention to the small section of the Ogden street state highway, just west of the village of Broadview, and at the intersection of that highway and the Chicago Central tracks. The track passes this highway at an acute angle, and on either side of the railroad is left an unfinished piece of roadway in very bad condition, full of dangerous holes. But particularly dangerous is the short curve on each side of the track as the road ascends to the level of the track itself. There is no sign calling attention to the danger of the curve.

It may be that the highway authorities are contemplating a subway at this point, but this very dangerous condition of things should be remedied without delay.

A. B. CRAIG.

The public utilities commission in March, 1917, ordered a subway constructed at the point in question, the same to be built within one year. We are assuming that the work will be completed with.

SMOKE AND NOISE NUISANCE REMEDIED.

Chicago, July 9.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Is there not something that can be done to stop the noise and also the smoke and gas coming from buildings at 3016 Indiana avenue? It was used for storage, but has been turned into a machine shop. They work nights and day.

F. G. S.

An investigation was made by the writer and it was found that the noise complained of was caused by the operation of a motor driven fan used to draw the exhaust of smoke and dust from the above premises and to abate nuisance of noise from the operation of machinery at night.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

THE JABBERING NOTE.

Chicago, July 10.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—You were kind enough the other day to give me space in your column for a contribution under the caption of "Mars and Wilson." This rather foolish skit of mine brought me an abusive letter from some unknown German, the last word in whose vituperative outburst is Rindvieh ["jackass"].

As his letter was anonymously written, "Rindvieh," I take it, must be the signature of my enraged correspondent. Just why a German of apparently unadulterated type should take umbrage at my little satire is the incentive to this inquiry. Let us perform a post mortem on him.

Mark Twain's essay on the German language was originally an after-dinner speech, delivered before an American group of students and some invited professors at Heidelberg.

While the students rolled in rather exaggerative explosions of laughter, I kept my eye on a certain German professor of jurisprudence, whose features nature had molded in the rigid and sober type. He did not take kindly to Mark's harlequinade. His body stiffened with offended dignity and a pale, frozen smile held his face in a tetanic vise. Although observing the urbanities of an invited guest, he must have suffered the tortures of the damned. It was one of the most ghastly sights I have ever witnessed.

Again, I remember a woman caller at a house, in whose presence somebody sat down at the piano and played from Beethoven. She was mortally offended at the interruption to her conversation, stalked out of the house and moved to Seattle.

To the professor, humor, to the woman, music was the jarring and alien note in their wretched, beefy life.

COAL DEALERS PROTEST.

Chicago, July 9.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Apropos your recent editorial relating to the mystery of the coal business—there is nothing deep or profound about the coal situation. The matter is as simple as it can be, if viewed from the proper standpoint. Coal business, fundamentally, is really a railroad question. Permit me to refer you to a report made to congress by the federal trade commission. "The commission believes," says the report, submitted after many months of investigation ordered by congress, "that the coal industry is paralyzing the industries of the country, and that the coal industry itself is paralyzed by the failure of transportation. There are enough coal cars in the country, but not enough are delivered to the mines and these cars are not moved to the point of consumption with the greatest expedition, nor are they promptly discharged."

What the commission says every one man knows, and it is the simple damage to an injury to pound the dog who is helpless in a situation that he cannot help or alter.

If the press would point out more frequently where the blame lies, not only would coal become more plentiful, but prices would tumble to their normal levels.

L. R.

Chicago, July 9.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The statements published in your issues of the last few days lead the people to believe that there will be a reduction of from $1 to $2 a ton soon, while there is not a possibility of even $1 a ton reduction on certain sizes of coal and none on hard coal and coke.

The result is that the consumer is stopping or canceling his order, and if this continues for thirty to sixty days it will create a serious congestion in the fall and winter months.

ADVICE TO HERR FUNKHOUSER.

Chicago, July 10.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Who is this Funkhouser person? Upon what meat hath this German slim censor fed that he hath grown so puffy that his clothes don't fit him? He should be taken up on a high hill all by himself, and given certain information that might be of benefit to him. He should be gently told that he is living in the great American city of Chicago, not "the sixth German city of the world." Is a matter of fact, Herr Funkhouser should be deported and compelled to join Schaufhauser and that gang of spies sent back to Wilhelmstrasse a few days ago by President Wilson. Funkhouser's proper place is with the kaiser in Berlin, behind the towering walls of the castle of Vonderbinkinstaufenheim. I would also nix on Funkhouser. Let him run a nunnery. Du bist already a eunuch, also verboten.

JUST TEXAS GREED.

Menominee, Mich., July 9.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—In your issue of July 7 George D. Tobias Sr. gives the demand from the seaboard as an objection to mobilizing the Illinois militia at Waco, Tex. If he had lived there years as I did he would have found other things far more objectionable, some of which are alkali water, the heat and hot summer, which extends to Oct. 15; the dusty condition of all roads; the Brazos river, which is a muddy red stream when there is any water in it at all, and the unsuitableness of location in the same at any time. The only good points I can think of are the coldness of the three winter months and the kindness and enterprise of the citizens of Waco.

"TRIBUNE" EDITORS BOTH IN ARMY

Maj. R. R. McCormick Detailed for Service with Pershing's Force and Lieut. J. M. Patterson with His Regiment at Fort Sheridan.

MAJ. R. R. M'CORMICK. LIEUT. J. M. PATTERSON.

The two editors of THE TRIBUNE have entered the United States army service. This paper is unusual among newspapers in the fact that it has two editors, and also may be unique in the further fact that Both of them are entering the war.

One of the editors, Robert R. McCormick, who served as a major in the First Illinois cavalry at Brownsville, on the Mexican border, last summer and fall, has been sworn into the federal army and detailed for service with Gen. Pershing's expeditionary force. The First Illinois cavalry, with which he has been connected, is now the Second Illinois artillery, and it is expected that when Maj. McCormick's service with the Pershing force ends he will resume his place with the artillery regiment.

Joseph M. Patterson, who shares with Maj. McCormick the editorship of THE TRIBUNE, went to Fort Sheridan on Monday with his regiment (now federalized)—the First Illinois artillery—in which he is a lieutenant. Last summer Lieut. Patterson—then a corporal—was with this same command at San Antonio during the Mexican trouble. He has been attached to the First artillery for nearly two years, entering as a private.

During the absence of its two editors on duty in the army THE TRIBUNE will continue its policy of "America first" and will, as heretofore, give its readers the news of the world clearly and frankly, without bias and without dilution.

ILLINOIS WILL PLACE 21,354 MEN IN THE FIELD

State Ready to Respond to President's Call for Troops.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Springfield, Ill., July 10.—[Special.]—Illinois will place 632 officers and 21,354 enlisted men in the field on July 25, when the Illinois national guard responds to President Wilson's call for troops, as issued yesterday.

Practically every organization now is at full war strength. The Fourth infantry, now on duty at East St. Louis, and the Seventh infantry of Chicago are the only two that are noticeably below the minimum required by the war department. Adjt. Gen. Dickson said tonight that there is absolutely no question that these two regiments will have their companies full before July 25.

Mobilized at Home Stations.

The national guard is to be mobilized at the home stations of the several units. At their home stations the men are to be examined by the regular army surgeons and officers and there mustered in. The organizations will go to the southern concentration camps under the command of their own officers, after the elimination of those who may be unable to pass the necessary tests.

Under President Wilson's call Illinois is required to furnish eight infantry regiments, three regiments of field artillery, one regiment of engineers, one signal company, and two field hospitals. The two brigade commanders and their staffs are called out. Gens. Foster and Hill and a new brigadier general with his staff will be named for the new field artillery brigade. With the muster into the state service tonight of three batteries of field artillery at East St. Louis the Third Illinois field artillery completed its organization.

Composition and Location.

The composition of the units that are ordered for foreign service and the location of their respective headquarters follows:

	Officers.	Enlisted Men.
First brigade, Chicago	4	15
Second brigade, Quincy	4	15
Field artillery brigade, Chicago	4	15

Field hospital No. 2, Chicago	6	73

Of the foregoing, the First Infantry, Fifth Infantry, Sixth Infantry, First Field Artillery and part of the First Engineers already are in the federal service. The infantry regiments were called in April and have been on duty for several months guarding bridges, ammunition plants and government works scattered over the Mississippi valley.

WM. H. DUNN SUES HIS SON-IN-LAW AND HOYNE'S AID

Juvenile Court Foe Asks $10,000 for Arrest.

William H. Dunn of Brookfield, who has started many attacks on the Juvenile court, yesterday through his attorney, Charles S. McNett, filed suit in the Superior court for $10,000 damages against Carl A. Lax, his son-in-law, and Assistant State's Attorney Robert E. Hogan, assigned to the Juvenile court.

The action results from the recent arrest of the plaintiff on a warrant sworn out by his son-in-law, who contended that he had given Dunn $100 to pay a carpenter, but the money had not been turned over.

At the hearing before Justice Kendall in Oak Park it was shown that the carpenter received the money and Dunn was acquitted.

Now it is charged by Attorney McNett that Lax and Assistant State's Attorney Hogan were in a conspiracy to convict Dunn. The cloud cast over Dunn's reputation is valued at $10,000.

Last April Dunn, tied up the salaries of the Juvenile court officers during a hearing of his suit to restrain payment of their salaries on the ground that the officers were not properly appointed. The petition for the injunction was dismissed by Judge Gridley and the Appellate court confirmed his decision.

Mayor Expected Back from Summer Home Today

Mayor Thompson is expected to return to his office today. He has been at his summer home in Lake Forest since last Friday.

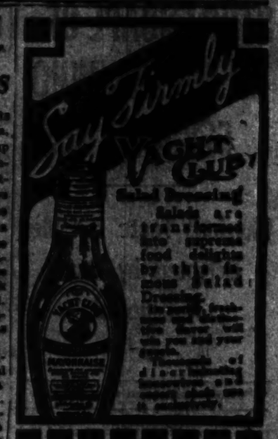
Shot Policeman, Charge.

James McCormick, 5426 South Carpenter street, and Michael Quinlan, 5423 South Carpenter street, were arraigned yesterday in the Harvey court and their case continued. They were identified, the police say, as the youths who shot Patrolman Thomas P. Beesley in the jaw.

WOMEN TO SERVE ON AUXILIARY DEFENSE BODIES

The state council of defense at its meeting yesterday gave its chairman, Samuel Insull, permission to take up the matter of creating an auxiliary committee in each county. These committees are to consist of not less than five members, four men and one woman, the woman wherever practicable to be a member of the Illinois division of the woman's committee of the council of national defense. The function of these committees will be to carry out the work assigned to them by the state council. The auxiliary committees will have authority to create any subcommittees they see fit to.

In compliance with the request of Director Stiffler of the council of national defense the state council appointed a subcommittee, consisting of John A. Spoor, B. F. Harris, and David R. Shanahan to assist in encouraging all states towards the location federal reserve banks under the federal reserve law.



GOVERNMENT IS CRAZY ON SPIES, MANN DECLARES

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., July 10.—[Special.]—The spy hysteria that has swept the United States in the last few days was denounced as "ridiculousness gone mad" in a speech on the trading with the enemy bill by Representative Mann of Illinois in the house today.

"The departments of the government have gone crazy in reference to these matters," said the minority leader. "They see a German spy on every housetop and on every street corner, and they are afraid of the spies. They are scared stiff, and there is no occasion for it. We have got to carry on the war remorselessly, but there is no reason why we should all get scared to death at home."

Representative Mann called attention to the fact that the trading with the enemy bill contained provisions by which it would be made a crime to trade with any German citizen living within the United States. Further, he said, the bill authorizes the president to declare a naturalized American citizen born in Germany an alien enemy of the United States with whom citizens of the United States cannot deal.

"By what authority," asked Representative Mann, "do we propose to say that some member of this congress, born in Germany, naturalized as an American citizen, cannot draw his pay from the sergeant-at-arms; cannot rent a house, cannot live, must die—must starve to death—on the streets?"

Three Year Old Boy Drowns.

Havana, Ill., July 10.—John Boyd, the 3 year old son of William Boyd of Browning, Ill., was drowned in the Illinois river today at Sharpes Landing.

U. S. AND ENGLAND TO MAKE JOINT RECRUIT DRIVE

The United States and England are going to make a joint drive for recruits in Chicago, starting Monday, July 23. This was decided upon yesterday at a conference between Capt. Franklin R. Kenney, head of the recruiting forces in the Chicago district, and Lieut. Col. J. S. Dennis, head of the British recruiting mission in the United States. New posters, band concerts and lectures will make up the rally. The idea of the rally was explained by Capt. Kenney as being an appropriate means of getting recruits both for the United States army and for the British forces by coöperative methods.

Today is to be British day. The authorities of the British recruiting mission announced that the entire proceeds of the war pictures to be displayed at Orchestra hall today will go to the Red Cross. Col. Dennis and Col. F. C. Jamieson will deliver short addresses in connection with the pictures.

Naval recruiting in Chicago has increased some 18 per cent, due to the opening of the new naval camp in Grant park, according to Capt. F. A. Evers, head of the camp.

Must Unmistakably Disqualify.

The rules further admonish the exemption boards that the afflictions listed as disqualifying men for service must be present in such a degree as to "clearly and unmistakably disqualify the man for military service."

The date for the draft of the new army is still withheld and may not be announced until next week owing to delays by exemption boards in completing their registered lists.

FROM THE GERMAN PRESS

In an editorial bearing the caption "Guard Against Hatred!" the New Yorker Herold makes the following observations:

"Day by day spasmodic attempts are being made to introduce regulatory measures for American newspapers printed in the German language, notwithstanding the fact that these journals have made honest endeavors to assist in the maintenance of quiet and order among our heterogeneous population.

"With all the earnestness which an unbearable baiting movement must evoke in the minds of the thinking elements we protest against this sowing of division dragon's teeth in the furrows of American unity.

"That higher democracy to which we should like to see our population grow cannot be called forth by hatred."

London and Paris newspapers were instantly allowed to announce the arrival of American troops in France. We, who have also an interest, so to speak, in the safe landing of our boys, were permitted to learn of it as early as three days thereafter.—New Yorker Staats-Zeitung.

Somewhere we read that Kerensky is the hero of the day. But there probably are days even in Russia which should not be praised until evening has arrived.—Cincinnati Freie Presse.

Finally it may come to pass that we also shall have to place our censor under censorship.—New Yorker Staats-Zeitung.

SOLDIERS' GUNS KILLED NEGROES, TALE TOLD JURY

Blacks Shot Down as They Open Fire on the Guardsmen.

East St. Louis, Ill., July 10.—Two Negroes were shot and killed by Illinois guardsmen during the rioting here on July 2, it was testified at the secret session of the coroner's jury yesterday, according to information obtained today.

This testimony was reported to have been given by Col. E. P. Clayton, who was in command of the troops at the time, and now is in immediate command.

The two Negroes, according to the report of the testimony, were hiding in a shed when they were killed. They were killed on order of a police sergeant, who said the Negroes had fired at policemen and soldiers.

Not Enough Men at Start.

Col. Clayton told the jury that there were not enough troops on duty here on the afternoon of July 2 to prevent riots. In the business section there were only two soldiers to a block, and they had little assistance from the police. He told of a policeman arresting a man for flourishing a revolver, and then releasing him at the demand of the crowd. Later this man was arrested under orders of Col. Clayton.

Clarence B. Pope, chairman of the citizens' committee of 100 that is demanding the prosecution of the guilty and a sweeping reform in municipal affairs, said the committee is opposed to the policy of holding the coroner's inquest in secret.

Tried for Shooting Negroes.

A man arrested by Capt. O. C. Smith, I company, Fourth Illinois infantry, was released by the police, ostensibly "on order of the state's attorney." Capt. Smith asserted that he heard the man say:

"I've killed my share of niggers today. I have killed so many I am tired, and somebody else can finish them."

N. E. A. WOMEN SPEAK ALL DAY AT BIG MEETING

Point Out That They Will Be Factors in Aiding U. S. to Victory.

Portland, Ore., July 10.—Women held the center of the stage today at the National Education association convention here. Not a man spoke at the convention's general session. All the addresses were made by prominent women educators, who told the assembled delegates they must work for victory in the war.

"The test of our citizenship has come," Josephine Corliss Preston, state superintendent of public instruction of Washington, one of the speakers, said. "We represent the army of women educators who are next to the home in the training of the youth of the land. A great world of humanity needs us."

Julia C. Lathrop, chief of the children's bureau of the department of labor, Washington, D. C., in an address, held that children's labor laws should be not modified, despite the war. "Teachers must combat efforts to tamper with the rights of children," she said.

Other speakers were Mrs. Alexander Thompson, The Dalles, Oregon, only woman member of the Oregon legislature; Anna Laura Force, principal of the Lincoln school of Denver, and Ella Flagg Young, former superintendent of schools of Chicago.

Greetings from President Poincare of France to the educators were read. They were conveyed in a message from Dr. John H. Finley, state commissioner of education of New York, who has just returned from France.

Military Activities Linked

This nation is now engaged in establishing a mighty military force, which shall ensure the success of the great war.

All over this broad land, camps will be pitched where the armies of the Republic will train for service.

Linking the training camps, the aviation fields, the coast defenses and even the remotest points where the forces of the nation are gathered, with each other, and with the great bureaus at Washington, the nerve center of the military system and of the nation, is the Universal Bell Telephone System.

Immediately upon the declaration of war, the whole Bell System was placed unreservedly at the disposal of the Government. The government's telephone needs became at once of paramount importance, to which every private requirement was necessarily subordinated.

Since the war, the demands upon our service due to industrial and commercial activities, have been unprecedented, and are constantly increasing.

As our military establishment grows, the Government's need for telephone service will increase and must be met.

We ask you to co-operate with us by avoiding extravagant and wasteful use of the service, so that with the other resources of the country, our reserve may be conserved, and we may perform the full measure of service to the Government and to the Nation.

"KID CONGRESSMAN'S" BRIDE

Miss May Cameron, Former Leading Woman in Musical Comedy, Secretly Married to Charles S. Wharton.

Charles S. Wharton, who during the term that started in 1904 was known as the "Kid Congressman," has survived many a long and hotly contested debate in Washington, but he was completely defeated one evening in May three years ago. On that eventful evening he attended a musical comedy in the loop and as soon as he had cast one glance at the leading woman he gave up the battle and ordered American beauties.

The leading woman's name was May Cameron and she was singing "I Love Love" as she first saw the gentleman in A 6. She sang the rest of the song looking into his eyes and accepted the beauties. He was there the next night and the one following. They were married last week.

Friends who arranged the license suppressed the news and it was not discovered until yesterday.

Four days were spent at French Lick and the honeymoon had to be cut short because Mr. Wharton is an attorney and had several cases pending. But the courts are going to take a vacation soon. Then Michigan will see the couple for two months.

AUTO MAY CAUSE THE WIDENING OF MICHIGAN AVE.

Michigan avenue, between Twelfth and Thirty-second streets, may be widened by the south park board next year because of automobile traffic congestion. In anticipation of favorable action by the board, J. F. Foster, superintendent of the south parks, has ordered the new lighting system installed so as not to interfere with the contemplated improvement.

The othoroughfare may be widened from eight to ten feet, in the opinion of Mr. Foster. The driveway is not fifty feet wide between the two points, and under the tentative plans the sidewalks would be reduced to eleven feet in width. "Automobile row" would be the district most vitally affected by the improvement.

Some opposition is expected because of the number of shade trees which would be cut down.

EATS 4 CHICKENS IN AFTERNOON; HUNGRY AT NIGHT

Bookmen of America in Unique Stunts at Picnic.

The Bookmen of America held their annual picnic at Hinsdale yesterday. There were baseball, games, races, and eating contests. The westerners upheld their reputation by beating the easterners at baseball for the third time in as many years. The score was 10 to 4. F. S. Hale of Chicago was captain of the westerners and E. C. Ketcham of New York of the easterners.

Eats Four Chickens.

J. H. Hopkins of New York won the eating prize after a tight contest. He put away four whole chickens, several helpings of salad and almost a gallon of ice cream. That was in the afternoon. At 10 o'clock last night Mr. Hopkins remarked he had not had any supper, so he went out and put in a supply of bacon and. Mr. Hopkins is 6 feet 7 inches tall and weighs 240 pounds.

Other Results.

The results of the other contests follow:

Golf, M. H. Donahue, Chicago.
Pinochle, S. E. Whitman of Racine, Wis.
Fat man's race, R. E. Hartwig, Detroit (Mr. Hartwig weighs 235 pounds).
100 yard dash, J. H. Springer, St. Louis.
Sack race, George Lee, Chicago.
Potato race, Duke Hill, Chicago.
Golf approach and putt, Judson Morris, Chicago.
Golf, straight putt, B. S. Hitchens, Chicago.

E. C. Brewster of Chicago presided at the banquet in the evening. The convention will end Saturday.

With a great mail-order house like the Hartman Furniture and Carpet Co., the efficient economical handling of correspondence is a matter of prime importance.

It was in 1915 that the Hartman Company first decided to investigate The Dictaphone. Seventeen Dictaphones were installed and at the end of one month it was found that a certain group of typists had increased their output by 92,170 lines, or 37%, each operator averaging an increase of thirty-one letters per day.

"Our mail is handled much more promptly," wrote the Company later, "and each correspondent is taking care of 25% to 50% more work necessitated by the growth of our business."

This famous House is now using no fewer than 86 Dictaphones and describes them as "a first class investment."

All this is the universal verdict on The Dictaphone given by all those who have investigated, whether on behalf of a large or small business.

MEDAL HONORS TO D. EDWARDS IN GOLF PLAY

Bobby Jones Beaten by Ned Sawyer in First Round.

Pairings Today

Donald Edwards vs. J. S. Worthington.
E. Hoover Bustard vs. Jack May.
F. Burnett vs. L. A. Pedersen.
J. T. Henry vs. Francis Ouimet.
Kenneth P. Edwards vs. R. G. Bush.
J. P. Guilford vs. G. D. French.
J. G. Anderson vs. R. A. Bowker.
R. Markwell vs. D. E. Sawyer.

BY JOE DAVIS.

Medal honors of the nineteenth annual championship of the Western Golf association went to Donald Edwards of Midlothian after a close contest in which he nosed out his brother by a single stroke, the score being 150 to 151 in favor of the bachelor member of the family pair. With the souvenir medal apparently in his grasp at the three-quarter mark Kenneth unloaded too many fives and took 42 coming home. Donald continued on the even tenor of his way and turning the last nine in 38 came home with a card of 74.

This close finish prefaced a great afternoon of golf. Starting in a rather cold and colorless morning the contestants in the afternoon enjoyed a wealth of balmy sunshine that even a Californian would have envied. It was an afternoon in which the gallery had its fill of close matches, one reaching the twenty-second hole and two the nineteenth. The greatest winning margin was four holes.

Bobby Jones Loses to Sawyer.

Young Bobby Jones of Atlanta, the southern champion, fell a victim to Ned Sawyer of Bob-o'-Link. The veteran campaigner, winning 3 and 1, had a card of approximately 74, allowing him a five on the unplayed hole.

Jesse Guilford of Boston, the Massachusetts champion, was given one of the hardest battles of his career by Walter Crowdus of Olympia Fields, former Cook county champion. The former pride of New Hampshire was three down at the turn, but eventually got on even terms and pulled out a fine victory on the twenty-second green.

Francis Ouimet opposing young A. S. McIntyre of Hinsdale, did not play up to form, but won by a comfortable margin.

Two Local Stars Beaten.

Chicago lost two stalwarts in the initial skirmish. Albert Seckel, former western champion, was eliminated by Jack Henry, the long distance driver from Jackson Park, while G. Decker French of Rock Island arsenal carried too much artillery for Paul Hunter. Paul Gardner also fell, but gave John Anderson of New York a close contest.

Chicago landed nine men in the second round and the pairings left the field well divided, with five local players in the top half and four in the lower division.

The Jones-Sawyer match was the main attraction. Bobby put up a game fight but, as in all his previous matches, developed a penchant for finding traps and troubles other than the man-made kind.

All Square at Turn.

Sawyer won the fourth hole, but played the seventh and eighth poorly. He won the ninth in a par 4 and they turned all square. A trapped drive cost Jones the short eleventh hole and the next hole he sliced through a trap into a tough lie and had to play short of the bunker guarding the green. Sawyer got home with a fine mashie shot from the rough and won, 4–3, being 2 up.

Jones holed a seven footer for a 3 on the thirteenth green, Sawyer missing on the like from twelve feet. A pulled drive to a trap and a short out cost Jones the next hole, Sawyer after a topped drive getting home with a spanking iron shot. Jones won the next hole with a twenty-five foot putt, leaving him 1 down and 3 to play. Sawyer won the long sixteenth, 545 yards, with an eighteen foot putt for a 4. Jones was trapped on his second shot for the seventeenth and the match was over when he poked out short.

Cards of Leading Matches.

PUGILISTIC POINTERS.

In tow of Manager Mike Collins, Fred Fulton, the Rochester giant, who aspires to the title held by Jess Willard, landed in town yesterday for a brief stop. Al Palzer, another heavy cue, who is a member of the Fulton training camp, also was in the party. Fulton seems to have filled out a bit since his last appearance here and says he is about ready to dethrone Joethes Kiel, the new scrapping the heavyweight throne. His knockout of Jack Moran at St. Louis was so easy that he didn't even care to discuss it.

Kid Harris, a 122 pounder of New Orleans, landed in the city yesterday seeking matches with boys in this section of the country. He especially wants to meet Sailor Flood.

Tom Sullivan, Boston, 86, 83, 169, defeated Hugh Vaughn, Detroit, 88, 84, 170, by default.

S. S. Jackson, Hinsdale, 86, 86, 172, defeated C. B. Duval, Garfield, 85, 84, 169, 3 and 1.

AUTO DEALERS OF NATION ORGANIZE AT SESSION HERE

New Body's Headquarters Placed in Chicago; Elections Today.

BY SHEPPARD BUTLER.

Representatives of automobile dealers in thirty states, including delegates from eighty-five local organizations, met at the Hotel La Salle yesterday and thrashed out the preliminaries to the formation of a central body, to be known as the National Automobile Dealers' association. The plan is an indirect outgrowth of the automobile men's recent campaign at Washington, which resulted in eliminating the 5 per cent motor vehicle tax from the war revenue bill.

Under a scheme of organization, which virtually is certain of acceptance today, Chicago will be the headquarters of the association, and it will be incorporated under the laws of Illinois. New York, hitherto the center of virtually all the organized automobile activities of the country, was not even considered, the delegates declaring their belief that Chicago has become the strategic point from which the business campaigns of the future will be directed.

Represents 10,000 Car Dealers.

More than 10,000 dealers and distributors in every part of the United States had direct representation at the meeting. About 30,000, it was announced, will be eligible to membership in the national body.

A spirited fight developed in the afternoon, when a group of Iowa delegates made a determined effort to have garage proprietors and accessory dealers admitted to membership. After a bitter debate, the committee which is drafting the bylaws was instructed to frame them so as to include only dealers and distributors of automobiles and managers of factory branches, the "outsiders" going down to a stubbornly contested defeat.

Rival Camps for Elections.

Further hostilities are expected today in the election of permanent officers. George W. Browne, a Milwaukee Overland dealer, is backed for the presidency by one faction, while another is offering Harry E. Pence, who sells Buicks in Minneapolis. Representatives of the Chicago Automobile Trade association are remaining neutral on the presidency fight and grooming Thomas J. Hay, the Chandler distributor, for treasurer.

The dealers' organization is designed to provide the missing link in a series of bodies which now includes the American Automobile association, for automobile owners; the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, for manufacturers, and the Society of Automotive Engineers, for the designers.

Annual Meetings Here.

Activities having to do with legislation and other undertakings designed to strengthen the dealers' standing generally will be directed from the Chicago headquarters by a general manager and a board of directors. There will be annual meetings of the association as a whole, probably in connection with the Chicago automobile show in January.

Among the Chicagoans participating in the deliberations are Joseph F. Davis and W. G. Tennant, president and secretary of the Chicago Automobile Trade association; Erwin Greer, Ford dealer; D. E. Whipple, branch manager for the Anderson Electric Car company, and Thomas J. Hay and W. J. Boone of the Chandler and Moline-Knight company respectively.

LATE AUGUST.

Falling leaf and fading tree;
Summer's over, or soon will be.
Autumn's coming, and woe is me!
Autumn's coming, and woe is me!
The beer season's making it ready to die;
Wine is fine, but it comes too high.—
Good-bye to Scotch, good-bye to rye,

Hark! A voice from the Owl Buffet:
"Gents, better hurry!" it seems to say.

"All the tomorrows won't be as today;
All the tomorrows won't be as today.
The barrel's shallow; twill soon be dry,
The government's grabbing the whole supply."
Good-bye to Scotch, good-bye to rye,

What are we waiting for, O my friend!
Rush straight into that bar and spend
Your dough, my friend, your dough, my friend!
What are we waiting for, you and I!
A glass of milk? O Me! O My!
Good-bye to highballs! Good-bye to highballs!
Good-bye, good-bye, good-bye!

BOOST FRESHMEN

Indiana University Alumni Favor Lifting Ban During War Period.

REVOCATION during the war period of the Big Ten conference rule prohibiting freshmen from engaging in athletics was indorsed by members of the Indiana University association at their monthly luncheon yesterday.

It was pointed out by the various speakers that a majority of the college freshmen were too young for war service, and as their contests were for the benefit of the Red Cross war fund, that enforcement of the rule would operate against the athletic training of the lower class men besides robbing the war fund of a considerable sum of money.

The sentiment of the association will be forwarded to members of the Big Ten with request for revocation of their ruling. Robert E. Wiltsey, president of the association, presided.

You be the JUDGE!

Smoke 5 at Our Risk!

OUR competitors said we never would get away with such an offer. They jeered—snickered—ridiculed! Bankruptcy, they said, would be our end!

"The finest handmade cigar ever rolled couldn't stand such a test," these competitors said. "No cigar manufacturer ever dared to guarantee his cigars in the smoker's mouth, before." "Think of paying back a man's money after the cigars have been consumed!"

But listen! They failed to consider that once in a lifetime something absolutely new is discovered. And they didn't know, as did we, that that once had happened in the remarkable blend of our new 1917 La Azora.

Ordinary cigars can be described by such words as "sweet" or "smooth" or "velvety" or "nut-like."

But none of these common expressions—and no word we could find—could even suggest this remarkable new La Azora blend.

For this unusual cigar only unusual selling methods would do!

SMOKE FIVE—Daring "Money Back" Offer

"You be the judge!" That's the way—the daring way—we decided to introduce the new La Azora blend to the American Smoker.

Thousands of dollars—a fortune—we staked on this new La Azora blend and the "square deal" spirit of the American Smoker! AND WE WON!

Now our competitors are baffled! They can't understand how a cigar has actually made good on this daring offer.

But thousands of smokers know the reason. If you want to find out—

Go to Your Dealer!

Buy five of these new La Azoras. Three sizes and shapes to choose from. Here is the daring offer!

We are not in the mail order business, but should your dealer not be able to supply these cigars on this daring offer, send 50c for 5 Bismarks or 5 Monarchs, or 25c for 5 Agreements or 30c for 5 Sixes (to LaAzora Factory, 222 Forest Ave. E., Detroit) and we shall be glad to furnish them direct until your dealer is supplied.

Try the new "blend" today. Smoke five at our risk.

OUR FIVE FREE OFFER

Go to the nearest cigar dealer and buy Five LaAzora Cigars—"Bismarks," "Monarchs," "Agreements" or "Sixes." Smoke all five. Then if you are not entirely satisfied tell us the reason, return the five bands and we will remit you cash in full for the five cigars. (to LaAzora Factory, 222 Forest Ave. E., Detroit)

This offer expires August 1st. It can be accepted only once by any smoker. Remember, the bands are to be sent to the LaAzora Factory—not to the dealer.

SOX SLIPPING! DROP ANOTHER TO MACKS, 7-3

Hang On to Lead by Thread When They Meet Defeat.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Connie Mack's youthful hoopers made it five out of four from the pennant seeking White Sox by accepting victory in the final game of the series and today the Sox are hanging onto first place by a thread. The score was 7 to 3 and Philadelphia earned a single run at every inning stick from the crafty south paws, who were guilty of six errors, five of which helped the Macks in the production of runs.

It was one of the worst exhibitions Sox fans have turned out this year and before the boys are experiencing a severe slump. Their attack was weak, their fielding ragged, and there was a lack of fighting spirit. Overconfidence may have had something to do with it but before the boys will regain their former form, now the supposedly weak Macks have left town.

Fail to Stage One Rally.

One during the battle the south siders staged a rally. That was in the fifth inning when they batted in two runs and tied the count, but in the sixth they blew to pieces again and the Macks succeeded for four runs.

The game should have been a nice pitching duel between Red Faber and Bob Shawkey and would have been if Red had been given as good support as his mates. Faber didn't register a hit off Bob over the eighth, though they did have their chances in the second on a walk, an error, and an out.

In the very same inning Faber in the first made he labored and three runs were scored, but not one of them was earned. In the last of the eighth Faber gave first place at bat to Murphy, who helped in the assault which filled the bases, and then it required the efforts of three more Sox hurlers in order to get the Macks out in the ninth.

Four Hurlers Wasted.

Faber was first and walked the first man he faced. Dauforth sacrificed and Faber was yanked. Danforth singled, but was cut out, but allowed Weaver to get to a dangerous place with a single to left. He was yanked and Scott was substituted. Eddie made his debut in the game and walked Weaver, who fumbled and then Scott was yanked for Wilkinson, who forced Witt. Dugan got to second and a single by Grover followed.

The second run came in the fourth. Mack led off with a scratch hit and Schang followed down the first base line, being safe when Gedeon missed the ball. Dugan followed both runners with a sacrifice and then the apparent play was tried, or at least McInnis tried to cross the plate, but in an attempt to beat McInnis was hit by a two bagger, scoring both runs.

Collins Starts Rally.

In the seventh Collins who began the rally which led to the count in the eighth. He drew out to Gandil, and Risberg followed, the latter with none out. Scott's single to Eddie was too short to let Collins score home, but Eddie Murphy, batting for Faber, produced a long one to Felsch, scoring. Leibold followed with a single which sent Gandil to third, scoring one run, but the run stopped there.

Quick Finish for Aldridge.

Vic Aldridge started the second half against Leon Cadore, but Vic lasted less than two innings. In that time the Robins scored their four runs off him, with the aid of a wild pitch in the first round and a three base wild throw in the second. Four hits had something to do with the pounding. Hendrix replaced Aldridge with one out in the second inning, and not only checked off the run making, but held the Robins to two widely separated singles the rest of the way. Nobody got to second against Claude.

So good was Vaughn and Marquard in the first game that it required 9 innings to decide the issue, and the luck favored Vaughn. For the Cubs scored their only run on Brooklyn's only error, a high throw by Hy Myers to put off the tally at the plate. In the last half of the ninth, while the constant Cubbie had made things pretty slippery, Hickman cut loose a peg which hit the grandstand and let the first man up in that round reach second base. But Vaughn was equal to that occasion, as he had been to several previous ones that were equally trying. Once the Robins filled the bases with only one gone. Again they had runners on third and second with only one out.

Vaughn in Strikeout Form.

Vaughn retired the first nine Robins who faced him, striking out five of the nine. In the fourth Hippo suddenly lost his wonderful control. Myers walked with one out. Hickman hit a low fly which squirted safely off Holder's fists. Stengel was passed, filling the bases. Then Vaughn regained control and two pop flies blanked the Robins.

Marquard held the Cubs to one hit and one pass in six innings and one visitor reached second base in that time. Doyle blew open the seventh with the hit that blazed the trail to victory. Mamie ascertained the captain to second, Williams rushed a grounder plum to first and it caromed off Myers' shins for a single. Hy recovered the pill and started to throw to second, wholly oblivious to the fact that Doyle was starting for home on the play. Chief Meyers let out a yell and Hy threw home, but so high that Doyle slid under with the run that won.

Brooklyn threatened in its half, but failed and it looked bad for that little old one run again when Holder started the home ninth with a wild throw that let Wheat to second. But Deal pinched a sharp bounder and tagged out Wheat, relieving the pressure. Two flies ended the game.

Cubs and Robins Break Even in Double Header, 1-0 and 4-1

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 10.—[Special.]—In spite of a steady drizzle that did its best to baffle them, the Cubs and Robins pulled off their double header today, and each team supported a victory from the sticky mess. The Cubs won the first engagement, 1 to 0, and the Robins the second, 4 to 1.

The drizzle began soon after play started and continued until near the end of the first game; then by three pretenses of impending mountain campaigned the promoters into starting the second scrap, only to wet that one, too.

Hippo Vaughn and Rube Marquard hooked up in a southpaw combat at the start, and the verdict went to Vaughn by the narrowest possible margin. An error gave the Cubs their only run.

Quick Finish for Aldridge.

Vic Aldridge started the second half against Leon Cadore, but Vic lasted less than two innings. In that time the Robins scored their four runs off him, with the aid of a wild pitch in the first round and a three base wild throw in the second. Four hits had something to do with the pounding. Braves Release Realbach to Providence on Option

Boston, Mass., July 10.—Manager Stallings of the Boston Braves announces the purchase from Providence of Outfielders Walter Rehg and Ray Powell; the unconditional release of Infielder Mike Mansey to Providence, and the release to Providence of Pitcher Bill Realbach. Realbach goes on an optional recall agreement and subject to waivers not yet received by Boston.

Notes of the Cubs

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 10.—[Special.]—Philadelphia tomorrow.

The rain kept the attendance down to a few thousand, although Brooklyn fans dearly love baseball bargains.

The Cubs departed on an evening train for Quakertown, where they are booked to play four games with the slipping Phillies.

Wortman wrenched his back swinging at a wide ball at the plate in the second of the first game, and had to give way to Holder in the next inning.

Myers beat out a hunt toward first in the third of the second game, but a flashy double play on Hickman's grounder to Doyle prevented the trouble for Hendrix.

Deal was robbed of a two or three bagger in the fifth of the second game when Wheat tore across the lot and made a swell catch of a line drive to left center.

Hickman nearly tore a hand off Hendrix with a liner in the sixth of the second game. Claude picked up the ball and threw out his hand, then took an inventory of his digits. Finding everything all right, he finished the game.

Turlman E. S. Gardner Dies on Tennessee Farm

COMPEL KAISER BILL TO MANAGE PIRATES, CALLAHAN SUGGESTS

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 10.—[Special.]—James J. Callahan, late manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, settled up with President Barney Dreyfuss, today and left for his home in Chicago tonight. He refused to state the amount he received in lieu of his contract price, but said he compromised to save himself from reporting at club headquarters every day.

Callahan gave a dinner party tonight to a few friends, including John P. Harris, a member of the board of directors, who has stood by him all through his trouble.

Before boarding the train tonight Callahan said: "If the general public knew all the inside of the running of the Pirate team they would say I did as well as any living man could do under the ownership of Barney Dreyfuss. The greatest punishment we can mete out to the Hohenzollern monarch after the war is over is to sentence him to manage the Pirates."

CUBS RELEASE JIMMY ARCHER

Jimmy Archer, who only a few years ago was considered the best catcher in the National league, has been given his unconditional release by the Cubs. In order to release him it was necessary to obtain waivers from all clubs in the league, and no club cared to take him.

President Weegham of the Cubs said Archer had been given an unconditional release, as the club did not wish to discipline of him to a minor league after his long service to the Cubs. Archer now is free to sign with any team.

In the spring Archer refused to accept the terms offered him by the Cubs and did not make the training trip, but just before the season opened he came to terms. While with the Cubs this year he was used only as third catcher.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 10.—[Special.]—Sheriff Berry announced tonight that he would apply for warrants Wednesday for the arrest of officials of the racing association and the West Michigan Fair association, charging violation of the anti-betting laws. The sheriff reached this decision after the pari-mutuels were allowed to operate at today's races. It is charged the machines do not meet the law's requirements. Four more days of racing are carded.

AMONG THE CASTERS.

The Illinois Casting club had two great days of it Saturday and Sunday. More than 150 casters participated. Two of the main events were staged by Andrew Shanklin with some very brilliant casting. Carl McCarthy took the other honors. Lots of enthusiasm added zest to the week of every entrant.

* *

Don't be frightened by the record cast of 302 feet made by an eastern caster the other day. It was a four ounce lure he threw—a surf casting event. Some performance, we reckon. They ought to have that fellow casting Evanston over into the Illinois prospect.

* *

There is still some water under the surface talk of holding the national tournament in Chicago, but it is hardly possible at this late date. A vote was taken which favored dropping the idea, ballots have been returned to the donors and the committee in charge have disbanded. Permission to hold the meet can only be obtained by giving the executive committee of the national association sixty days' notice. Personally we thought it a mistake to postpone the event, but the die, so to speak, has been cast—and the tournament won't be.

* *

It is not too late, however, to stage a mid-west tournament by inviting some of the clubs in this part of the country to send their crack men to compete with our boys over the Labor day week end. If this covers too much territory, a meet among the clubs in the city would be interesting.

* *

The Chicago Fly Casting club casts next Saturday and Sunday at their post at Garfield park, while the Anglers' club will "work" on the same days at the Douglas park post. Come out and see some of the "world's greatest" in action.

George Case of the Illinois Casting club has just returned from Montana, where the fishing is great, he says.

YANKEE HITFEST BRINGS 7-5 WIN IN 17TH INNING

Baker Drives In Run That Beats Browns in Duel of Fielding Feats.

St. Louis, Mo., July 10.—St. Louis and New York battled for seventeen innings. A single by Baker in the seventeenth drove in Pratt, scored with the winning run after the visitors. The score was 7 to 5.

Both sides threatened before the seventeenth, but wonderful fielding shut off several runs. In the fourteenth, with none on first and second and one out, Artaga hit a hot liner toward left, but Austin leaped into the air, speared the ball with his left hand, and touched second for a double play.

In the seventeenth, after Maranville had singled and Gedeon had sacrificed, Shotton hit a low line drive to center, but as Maranville was about to round Murray raced in, made a characteristic catch, and doubled Maranville off second.

In the seventeenth Pratt brought Baker safely across the plate. Score:

TEACHERS RENEW FIGHT TO REGAIN FORMER SCHOOLS

Board Postpones Action on Move to Have Ten Transferred.

Miss Margaret Haley, head of the Chicago Teachers' federation, began another campaign yesterday to get all of the teachers of her organization of the sixty-eight dropped a year ago sent back to their former jobs. The new school board yesterday postponed for a week action on Supt. Shoop's recommendation that ten of the teachers be given jobs in other schools.

Previous to the last meeting Miss Haley had made arrangements with the new board leaders to get all of the teachers returned to their former rooms. The special committee went over the head of Supt. Shoop in making the recommendation. After the matter was held up in the board room the committee reversed itself and got behind Supt. Shoop. But yesterday's action gives the federation another week to work on the new board.

Fight on Ten Teachers.

The fight is to be made on the following teachers, who are slated for positions in the schools mentioned:

Regina M. Foote, Bay school; Hattie P. French, McCormick; May O. Kinney, Burke; Nora O'Connor, Fiske; Agnes O'Donohue, McCosh; Mary O'Reilly, Grant; Amelia Prendergast, Baldwin; Mary Robson, Shields; Ellen Tumelson, Keith; Anna Whalen, Webster.

Two other teachers in the original group were not assigned. The board agreed to Mr. Shoop's plan of postponing their assignment until September. They are Mary H. Kromer, formerly in the Key school, and Amy Boughan in the Schurz High school. Thirty-two other teachers were returned to their former positions.

Office Employes Elected.

All of the office employes were reelected except three assistant attorneys, Chauncey M. Miller, John E. Foster, and George Steinbrecher. Jacob M. Loeb and Anthony Czarnecki sought to have them reflected, but Charles R. Francis, the new board's attorney, said he had not had time to confer with the three men and wanted more time.

Argument on the quo warranto proceedings was continued yesterday before Judge Walker by Corporation Counsel Samuel A. Ettelson and Assistant Corporation Counsel Chester R. Cleveland.

Churches Plan Life of Christ Essay Contest

The Chicago Church Federation council, representing 600 churches, decided yesterday at a luncheon at Marshall Field's to give $15 prizes to the Sunday school pupils of Chicago and of churches within a radius of fifty miles for the best essays on the life of Christ.

There will be four groups in and four outside of Chicago, arranged according to ages as follows: Children below 9 years, those 9, 10, and 11 years; 12 and 13 years, and those 14, 15, and 16 years of age. The essays of those 11 years of age and younger will be limited to 150 words; those from 11 years and up to 250 words.

OUTING INSPIRES NEW PLAN TO AID THE CITY'S POOR

Vacationists Urge Less Extravagance and Some Charity.

Two young people who have had the pleasure of a vacation in the country have started a plan which may mean an outing of a week or two for every poverty stricken convalescent woman in Chicago. They have set aside a percentage of their vacation appropriation to help the mothers and children who have never known what it was to have such an appropriation.

"We have just returned from the country," one of them wrote, "and our own vacation was so pleasant that we felt we should do something for those unable to go without help. If every one who goes away will economize on some of the little extravagant expenditures and turn the money over to THE TRIBUNE hospital fund there will be no need for the sick women of the tenements to suffer in the city."

Vacationists Give $25.

The contribution was $20 for the hospital fund and $5 for THE TRIBUNE ice fund for babies. Other contributions follow:

A friend	$ 5.00	E. B. Horton	20.00
Mrs. C. L. S.	5.00	Miss M. J. S.	1.00
A reader, P.B.	1.00	Salesman, M.
M. M. Petersen	2.00	R. G. Washing Tablets Co.	2.40
Mrs. C. E. Barber	2.00	Tot. for day	$80.40
J. Souvenier	5.00
L. E.	5.00

There were little notes with some of the contributions.

Hope for Happiness.

"I hope," wrote one person, "that this bill will help a bit to make a child or another happy for a little while. Bless you."

"Please add my mite to your fund," writes another.

"I gave up a few cigars," wrote a salesman. "It helped me, for I was smoking the worst kind I found it easy to cut down. Or cigars by feeling that every cigar meant so many hours to a poor kid and its mother who need the country and the fresh air."

Window Washer Plunges to Death.

Stanley Sherman, at 1180 West Huron street, window washer, misstepped his scaffold yesterday from a fourth story window of the Fairbanks building, 147 North Wabash avenue. He is believed to have lost his footing. The accident occurred during the morning rush hour period and a small crowd gathered around the pavement.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 11, 1917. * 13

PROFITS, WITH HONOR, FOR OUR COAL OPERATORS

Praised as Patriots, and Still the Price Fails to Go Down.

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

The coal mine owners of Illinois and Indiana still have the soft coal situation by the tail.

Last month Secretary of the Interior Lane met with the coal production committee of the national defense council—F. S. Peabody of Chicago being chairman of the former body—and agreed that the maximum price of soft coal should not exceed $3.50 at the mine mouth.

It was declared that coal mine operators in so agreeing had shown vast patriotism. They were said to have made a reduction of from $1 to $2 a ton in the price of their product. The reduction was large and real as applied to coal produced in many of the eastern fields.

No Reduction Here.

So far as the Illinois coalfields are concerned, it was no reduction at all.

On May 29 THE TRIBUNE printed an article showing that on June 1, 1916, the price of Illinois soft coal screenings at the mine mouth was from 90 cents to $1 a ton.

It also stated that on May 29, 1917, the price of the same coal under the same conditions was $2.75 a ton.

In an effort to make a fair statement of the changed conditions which justified such an enormous increase in the price of coal THE TRIBUNE asked George H. Cushing, editor of the Black Diamond, organ of the coal mine owners, to say in what particulars and to what extent the cost of producing coal in the Illinois district had increased.

Figured on Increase.

These figures are as follows:

	Per ton.
Increased cost of labor, due to increased wages.....	.80
Increased cost of all mining materials	.10
	.95

Accepting these figures at their face value and other experts say they are much too liberal—the justified price for soft coal at the pit mouth on June 1, 1917, was something like $1.55 a ton.

The price then prevailing was $2.75 a ton—which gives an additional profit of $1.20 a ton over and above that reaped by the miners in 1916.

When asked to explain and to justify, if possible, this addition of $1.20 a ton on top of the allowance for increased cost of production Mr. Cushing hesitated and evaded.

"Perhaps they did it because they thought they could get the money," it was suggested.

"I guess that's about it," he replied.

After the famous conference with Secretary Lane and the national council of defense had adjourned, with its eulogy of the operators as patriots, the three coal mine operators' associations of Illinois sent out to customers an official circular quoting the patriotic prices on their product.

The price for mine run and screenings was fixed at $2.75 a ton and that for domestic lump coal at $3.50 a ton.

One fails to notice any decided drop in the prices quoted before the conference met. It may be that the patriotism was shown by their not raising the prices to still higher figures.

Heavy Delivery in June.

Meanwhile, even before the conference in Washington, consumers of coal in Chicago were being urged to lay in at once their supply of fuel for consumption next winter. To a large extent they took that advice.

Perhaps the largest distributer of coal in the city reports that during June last he actually delivered in Chicago nearly three times as much coal to customers as during the same month in June, 1916. The same report is made by other large dealers. It is estimated that, on the whole, more than one-tenth of the total supply needed for consumption next winter was put in the bins in June.

When the famous conference of coal mine owners was held in Washington it was announced in the newspapers that a drop of from $1 to $2 a ton would follow by July 1. That was followed by the vitriolic attack made on the work of the conference by Secretary of the Navy Daniels and Secretary of War Baker. Promptly, also, came the official circular of the Illinois mine owners, quoting prices, which show no reduction whatever.

Stop Buying for Storage.

The result has been that, to a large extent, the consumers of Chicago have stopped buying coal for storage. Dealers complain quite generally that their delivery teams are standing idle in the barns.

It is also true that large dealers are not storing coal in their yards. There is an extremely small supply now on the ground in Chicago. And some of the largest dealers are advising their customers not to buy and store coal at present. They are themselves waiting for the price at the mine mouth to drop.

As for the retail coal dealer in Chicago he must, when he pays $2.75 for mine run coal at the pit mouth, charge something like $5.25 for it, the bill being made up something as follows:

	Per ton.
Price at pit mouth.....	$2.75
Freight to Chicago.....	.85
Handling	.30
Delivery by wagon.....	.85
Wastage	.15
Overhead	.10
Profit	.25
	$5.25

When one comes to pay his coal bill, it will do well to place the blame—if it be large—where it properly belongs.

World's Fair Engineer Wins Divorce on Grounds of Desertion; Other Cases.

DION GERALDINE, an engineer, best known as one of the builders of the Columbian Exposition buildings, was granted a divorce from Ellyn L. Geraldine yesterday by Judge Sullivan, on desertion charges. Geraldine testified that his wife refused to come with him to Chicago in 1905 when his business required that he make his home here.

David O'Connor, broker, filed a cross bill for divorce yesterday against Ethel Rose O'Connor. He charges her with infidelity and denies her charges of desertion, saying he is living apart for "reasons of health and happiness." Mrs. O'Connor charges him with cruelty.

New suits filed:

Theresa Becker says Julius A. Becker, a foreman for the Consumers' company, blackened her eye.

Myrtle Mickins charges August with nonsupport. She alleges that he has an income of $200 a month.

Sophia E. Riddell reports that Clarence had his picture taken with another woman. That's all wrong, she asserts.

Nan Castle charges Morrison with desertion.

LANDIS ASKS THE MAYOR TO DO 'ONE PATRIOTIC ACT'

Judge Says He's Tired of Apologizing for Big Bill.

Springfield, Ill., July 10.—Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis is tired of apologizing for Mayor Thompson wherever he goes. He wishes the mayor would "do one patriotic act" so he could point to it with pride and say: "That's the kind of a mayor we've got up yonder where real men grow."

He also is a little weary because every place he goes he is asked what kind of a town Chicago is that it elects William E. Mason to congress.

The judge unlimbered here tonight in an address before the Sangamon County Bar association. He got out the big oratorical blackthorn stick and belabored Congressman Mason to the delight of his audience and then went after Mayor Thompson.

Won't Bill Please Note.

"I wish," he said, "the mayor of my home city would do one—ONE—patriotic thing. If the mayor would act I would not be kept so busy apologizing for him wherever I go."

Judge Landis roasted the professional pacifists. He said they are touring the country organizing a minority on the war proposition and with that aid hoping to ride back into office.

The effort of the "professional ethnologists" to arouse the German-Americans against the government, he said, would fail.

"The German-American," he declared, "is loyal. He is for America first, last, and always. There may be a few who favor the kaiser, but they are few and far between."

"Finest of the Fine."

He told of visiting the Rainbow flying field and looking upon the "finest of the fine, whose only fear is that something will come between them and service."

The judge answered the question as to how long the war will last.

"It will go on," he said, "until no man will have it in his power to commit the crime of William of Germany, who by the signing of his name has sent over 7,000,000 men to the scrap heap and has maimed 20,000,000 more. The czar has been deposed already. Next to go will be both the kaiser and the sultan."

Charles F. Kimball's Will Divides $92,000 Among 41

The will of Charles F. Kimball, 453 Briar place, real estate operator with offices at 106 North La Salle street, who died May 18, was filed yesterday in the Probate court. It disposes of $92,000 among forty-one relatives, friends, and charities. Mrs. Ethel B. Kimball, the widow, is left $10,000 and a niece, Mrs. Muss Coray of Lane, Kas., is bequeathed $8,000. A clause in the will reads: "As the details of this will are of little interest to the public I hope and request that the newspapers will have the kindness to leave it out, as I am not anxious to advertise these little donations."

'YOU NEED US, WE NEED YOU, ENLIST' WINNING SLOGAN

"Fight Now, Talk Later, Enlist" Takes Second $50 Prize.

The contest for two slogans for the naval recruiting poster which occupies THE TRIBUNE'S great signboard at Michigan boulevard and Randolph street is ended. The first prize of $50 goes to Harry Schoenbrod, 22 years old, 4740 Prairie avenue, whose entry, "You need us, we need you. Enlist," was deemed the best out of more than 15,000 submitted.

"Fight now—talk later. Enlist," was submitted by two contestants, Conrad Jacobson, 20 years old, 1913 South Sawyer avenue, and Arthur F. Haeger, 2540 North Central Park avenue. Because both young men submitted the same slogan the prize money will be split, each getting $25.

The judges were Robert Reid, who painted the picture; Ensign H. D. Childs, in charge of the local naval recruiting office; and T. J. Keane of the Chicago Art institute.

Many Get Consideration.

There were a number which came in for lengthy consideration and much argument by the judges. Of these, "Make the world proud of you; enlist," submitted by R. C. Corlinsky, 3008 St. Lawrence avenue, came nearest to being selected as second best. This and the following were given honorable mention:

"Columbia calls you; be a man. Answer."—Victor Klebba, 1242 Lawrence avenue.

"Don't hesitate—participate."—Robert N. Carson, Iowa City, Ia., and H. F. Winkelhake, 2323 North Talman avenue.

"If you want peace, fight for it."—Carroll O'Connell, Boone, Ia.

The three winners are requested to call on the city editor of THE TRIBUNE this afternoon for their checks.

Fully 15,000 slogans were submitted from all corners of the country. On the last day they came by telegraph and special delivery.

Credit to Thomas Cusack.

Mr. Reid was greatly pleased with the interest displayed in his poster, but says that a great deal of the credit is due to Thomas Cusack and the Thomas Cusack company for the generosity and cooperation tendered by them. Mr. Cusack and his company not only saw to the actual execution of the painting, under Mr. Reid's supervision, but donated their workmen and materials. The billboard space which the great picture occupies was donated by THE TRIBUNE to the Navy league.

SIMPLE SERVICE MARKS BURIAL OF HENRY FIELD

Henry Field was buried yesterday in Greenwood, Va., near the Langhorne home, the birthplace of his bride of five months. Only relatives and intimate friends of the family were present at the simple ceremonies.

Mr. Field, who was a grandson of the late Marshall Field, died in New York Sunday after an operation for an abscess of the lung.

The service was held under a great oak tree on the lawn of Mirador, the Langhorne estate. The interment was in the cemetery of Emmanuel Episcopal church at Greenwood.

The widow and other members of the funeral party arrived at Greenwood on a special train, where they were met by Stanley Field and Stanley Field Jr. Officiating at the service were Bishop O'Connell of Winchester, and Father Rankin of Charlottesville. The pallbearers were Charles Dana Gibson and his son, Langhorne Gibson; George Post of New York, Marshall Field III., Stanley Field, Stanley Field Jr., and W. H. Langhorne of Albemarle county, Virginia.

Others attending included James Simpson, vice president of Marshall Field & Co.; Arthur B. Jones, manager of the Field estate, and Chauncey Keep, one of the trustees of the estate.

Mrs. Field, whose health has been impaired by the death of her husband, will remain in Greenwood for some time. Later, it was said, she may come to Chicago to make some disposition of her affairs here.

DR. O. F. SCOTT SUED BY WIFE FOR SEPARATION

Cruelty and Other Charges Filed Against Wealthy Physician.

Mrs. Alma E. Scott, through her attorneys, Day and Guenther, filed suit in the Circuit court yesterday for separate maintenance against Dr. Orlando F. Scott, who lives at 2022 Washington boulevard and has nine offices about the city. Mrs. Scott charges her husband with cruelty and infidelity. She alleges he is wealthy.

According to the bill Mr. and Mrs. Scott were married in Chicago April 17, 1909, and they lived together until April 14, 1917, when Mrs. Scott left her husband's home. Dr. Scott is alleged to have "an ungovernable temper."

Tells of Cruelty.

On April 13, 1917, the bill states, the doctor "in a towering rage" seized his wife, and, shoving her into the dining room, struck her head against the dining room table, thereby causing severe pain.

The infidelity charges are somewhat vague. It is alleged that several acts of indiscretion took place in the Argo general hospital with an employe of the institution.

The bill states that since the first of the year the doctor remained away from home almost every night until long after midnight.

Divorce Request Cited.

Four months ago, the bill recites, the doctor informed his wife that a "lady friend of his had gotten a divorce and that he wished his wife would take action."

There are three motor cars, a racer, a roadster, and a large touring car; property at 2922 Washington boulevard valued at $50,000, a liveried chauffeur, an income of $18,000 a year, and several other luxuries now being enjoyed by the surgeon, the bill states.

"I was astounded when I heard the news," said Dr. Scott last night. "I want to deny everything that Mrs. Scott charges me with. Why, if I had a temper would I have allowed the tin can sleuths of the Shipsy, Hunt & Dorman agency to pester me for four months? That would get anybody's goat. It's a frameup as far as the property is concerned. I turned everything over to my wife some time ago."

BEG YOUR PARDON!

A patriotic Chicagoan writes that she and her co-workers for the soldiers are discouraged from knitting socks through being told that THE TRIBUNE has said that such work is waste; that the government furnishes better socks than can be made by such endeavor. She adds that her information from other sources indicates that there cannot be too much of such work done for the men who are to fight.

That is THE TRIBUNE'S information from other sources, as has been said more than once in the months since the deterrent statement was printed; it was part of the quoted utterance of an army man supposed to know what he was talking about. THE TRIBUNE made no assertion on the subject as of its own knowledge. The best advice seems to be to keep on knitting, specially socks; the boys need the best.

A Boston dispatch in Saturday's issue about the Gould-Carter marriage said that the bridegroom followed the example of his father, George J. Gould, in going to that city for his bride, Edith Kingdon, a member of the stock company of the Boston Museum, a famous theater of the time.

Edith Kingdon was a member of the celebrated company maintained in his New York City theater by the late Augustin Daly when she was courted by Mr. Gould.

Readers write in to say that B. L. T., on Saturday, misquoted the Mikado of Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta in telling of the Hubbard Woods housewife who, to punish improvident servants, read to them J. Ogden Armour's article on thrift in the Ladies' Home Journal.

B. L. T. quoted correctly and to the point, but with an ellipsis, which seemed advisable when taken with the context. He omitted the second of these three lines:

"My object all sublime
I shall achieve in time
To make the punishment fit the crime," etc.

JURY TO GET TANANEVICZ CASE TODAY

The case of John M. Tananevics, charged with receiving deposits while his private bank was insolvent, probably will be submitted to a jury today by Judge Hugo Pam of the Criminal court. Assistant State's Attorney Edwin C. Raber, who will follow Assistant State's Attorney Herren, will make the closing argument for the state and will ask the maximum penalty.

2 NILES CENTER SALOONS RAIDED BY THE SHERIFF

Vice Activity Shifts from West to North Suburbs.

Activity in the county vice situation yesterday switched from the west to the north suburbs.

Deputy Sheriffs on warrants obtained before Justice Heald of Des Plaines arrested two Niles Center saloonkeepers, charging them with the operation of slot machines. The men, Peter Brett and Nicholas Gotsel, were released on bonds and the case was set for hearing tomorrow before Justice McKee. Three slot machines containing about $60 in nickels were seized as evidence.

The deputies' action followed that of the West Suburban Law and Order league in instructing its attorney, Myer J. Stein, to take legal steps with a view to the impeachment of Sheriff Traeger.

What's a Sheriff to Do?

When the sheriff was informed of the action taken by the Law and Order league he asked:

"What good does it do for the sheriff to arrest such violators when he can't get justices of the peaces to convict 'em?

"Just take the case of J. F. Raftery, arrested by us recently for selling liquor in Niles without a license. When Justice of the Peace Hind heard the case in the Niles court he discharged Raftery, declaring the sheriff should have arrested him on a warrant. I don't see why a warrant was necessary when my deputies had bought liquor in Raftery's place.

"What's a sheriff to do when justices dismiss men that way?"

The Versatile Mr. Noell.

"Is it not true that John Noell, whose name appears as secretary of a 'country club,' raided in Niles recently, is on your pay roll?" Mr. Traeger was asked.

"Yes, he's on the pay roll, but really, you know, he isn't a deputy sheriff," was the reply. "He's Judge Thomas Taylor's bailiff. How does he happen to have a deputy sheriff's star? Well, you know, all the bailiff's have 'em."

Mother Sues to Regain Child.

Mrs. Mary Hermeck filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in the Circuit court yesterday against Mrs. Augusta Straeter and Charlotte Straeter, both of 5535 Gladys avenue, seeking to regain the custody of her 6 year old daughter, Henrietta, who, she claims, was taken from her on March 20, 1910.

N. A. UNION CASH TRACED IN PART TO ITS OFFICERS

Harold E. Spensley, former supreme president of the order, and Louis Cleveland, chairman of the board of trustees, under cross-examination by Attorney John H. R. Lee, counsel for the policyholders of the North American Union, admitted at a session of court last night that they had received money from Frank Nunemaker, general manager of the order, after the contract had been signed for its merger with the Fraternal Aid Union.

Spensley admitted that he had received $2,000 from Nunemaker and that the promise of as much more was stated that Nunemaker had promised the officers of the order four years' salary with the new reinsuring order and had guaranteed them positions for that period.

Mr. Cleveland at first refused to tell the amount of money he had received from Nunemaker after the merger had been made, on the ground that it might incriminate him. It was only after Judge Foell threatened to take criminal action against him that Cleveland admitted Nunemaker had given him $2,200.

"Nunemaker owed me some money," was the way Cleveland explained. Under questions he admitted that only $1,000 was a personal loan to Nunemaker.

"I had no idea what the rest of the check was for, honest judge, I didn't," said Cleveland.

Attorney Frank L. Shepard of Church, Shepard & Day, attorneys for the attorney general in this action, asked that an order be entered directing Spensley & Cleveland to pay to the receiver for the North American union by 12 o'clock today the amount of money they had received from Nunemaker.

"This money belongs to the order and the receiver is trying to collect in its assets and surely this money is part of the assets," they argued.

Spensley stated he was willing to comply with any order of the court. Cleveland asked for leave to consult counsel.

Judge Foell ordered Spensley and Cleveland to appear in court at 12 o'clock today prepared to "comply in full with the orders of the court as to turning over the amounts they testified to having received from Nunemaker."

Cleveland testified that the merger was the work of Nunemaker; that no official vote was taken on the proposition, and that he had not attended any meeting at which the question was discussed. The merger was effected in December, 1916.

BRUNDAGE WILL CONTROL COMING JUDICIAL TICKET

G. O. P. County Committee Decides to Name Thirteen Candidates.

The Cook county Republican committee yesterday:

Extended the term of committee members to 1920, the Deneen men voting against it.

Declared for a full judicial ticket of thirteen candidates.

Left governorship for a women's advisory committee.

Indorsed Emil Wanatah for the central registration bureau.

Old Plans Perilled.

Declaring for the nomination of a full judicial ticket may disrupt the bi-partisan representations by which it was intended to nominate the ten sitting Superior court judges whose terms expire and name the other three candidates by a gentlemen's agreement.

The Democrats will meet Friday night at the Hotel Sherman to declare themselves elected for four instead of two years and issue the call for the judicial convention. It was thought likely last night the Democrats also will declare for a full ticket.

There are to be further conferences between the old party chiefs with a view to agreeing on a judicial slate. One plan suggested was to have the Republicans name the ten retiring judges and the three others to be agreed upon, without regard to their politics, and then have the Democrats do the same thing.

Alternative Plan.

Otherwise the Republicans will name eight new candidates in addition to the five sitting judges, and the Democrats will name eight new aspirants to run with their five sitting judges.

Twelve of the judges to be elected will sit on the Superior court bench and one will be named for the Circuit bench to fill the Gibbons vacancy. Ten judges are Republicans and five Democrats—seven elected in 1912 and three appointed to fill vacancies. Four additional Superior judges were provided for by the recent legislature.

The ten retiring judges are:

Republicans—Kavanagh, Pam, Foell, Barnes, and McSurely.

Democrats—Fitch, Goodwin, McKinley, Denis E. Sullivan, and David.

Probable Candidates.

For the two other places created by the legislature the Republican convention, which will be controlled by the Brundage "neutrals" and the city hall faction, plan to name Oscar Nebel and Anton Cerman. Nebel is a Bohemian and Cerman a city hallite. For the Circuit court vacancy no choice has yet been made.

If both parties decide to go it along and have a contest, the Democrats may drop Judge Clarence N. Goodwin and the Republicans might eliminate Judge Kavanagh.

The Brundage forces will control the judicial convention, unless a smashup develops.

Division of Votes.

There will be 7,589 votes in the judicial convention cast by the fourteen committeemen representing the thirty-five wards in Chicago and the country towns districts. Of this number the Brundage forces now count 2,927 in the city and 966 in the country towns, or a total of 3,907. This is a majority of the entire convention of 67. The city hall extremists will be 2,878 and the Deneen total 1,804.

The Deneen members of the committee yesterday opposed extending the terms of the present committeemen, the Brundage and Thompson men combining and carrying it by a vote of 8,092 to 1,888. The First, Seventh, and Eighth wards did not vote. The country towns forces also were not recorded.

Those who voted the 1,888 votes against the proposition were E. R. Litzinger, Frank Pamble, proxy for Roy O. West; J. P. Kinsella, Lewis D. Stitz, George Diersen, proxy for Niels Juul; Joseph Haas, and T. J. Healy, all Deneen men.

The organization of the women's Republican county committee will be undertaken at once.

SHAW COMPANY TAKES OVER ALL PARMELEE TAXIS

The Parmelee Transfer company's taxicab system yesterday was taken over by the Walden W. Shaw Livery company. Negotiations were conducted by John Hertz, representing the Shaw people, and Charles McCulloch of the Parmelee company.

Shaw stations will soon be maintained at all railroad stations and the Parmelee cabs will be retired. Their places, however, will be taken by 200 additional yellow cabs and fifty Shaw cars. With the installation of new equipment the Shaw company will have 900 taxicabs in operation. Rates will remain the same.

Mr. McCulloch remains as manager of the Parmelee Transfer company, but with the merger of the taxicab service of that corporation becomes a director in the Shaw and Yellow Cab companies.

Amateur Fences Arrested; Afraid to Sell Loot

Arthur Ransland, 3209 North Halsted street, and Edward Jockrandt, 1467 Custer avenue, are amateurs so far as crooked work is concerned. They admitted to Detective John Murphy of State's Attorney Hoyne's staff when arrested yesterday that they had received $600 worth of property stolen from George B. Carpenter & Son. But they were afraid to dispose of the loot.

FASHION'S BLUE BOOK

BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Paris to the contrary, it has turned out to be quite a flouncy summer. Of course, if one is stout, one does not dabble in these frills. One sticks to the meager lines—the narrow impoverished skirts and simple bodices that are mapped out by the great Parisian ateliers. But for the rest in the wind, the hollyhock in the breeze, what could be more charming than this present model of blue and white striped silk gingham with its pin tucked white organdy collar and cuffs and its blue Windsor tie? The narrow belt also is of organdy, and, save for the reversed stripes which edge each ruffle, there is no other trimming.

A whole host of summer frocks of linen, cotton crepe, and voile reveal that simplicity continues to be the fancy of the hour. The narrow skirt, the bodice defined by a girdle slightly higher than the natural waist line, long sleeves with tight cuff or ruffle, a round, rather wide neck—this is the creed of the season's summer frock. White, blue, string color, and citron—the last a favorite in the Paris shops—are all seen.

To these embroidery supplies the inevitable sauce. Girdles, skirt band, collars, and panels are all embroidered. Through this source many charming color combinations are achieved. For instance, green on string color, sky blue on white, sky blue on citron are the usual tunes played by the summer frock.

Lettuce Going to Waste.

THERE will probably be a more enormous waste of lettuce this summer than ever before in our history. We face in the next four weeks enormous wastes of all the green things, a waste that only can be prevented, as things now stand, by a great deal of philanthropic effort. Philanthropy is the only thing now we can depend upon to prevent this in any measure, and it ought to be a cooperative philanthropy.

As to lettuce, people with gardens must give it away, and people without gardens might sacrifice some pride and put themselves in the way of receiving it. The market gardeners will undoubtedly be discouraged, and next year lettuce may be scarce and high in consequence. Their peas have not paid for the cost of growing, it is reported. The scalpers will, of course, be happy to see it go to the dump, for food dumps make them happy.

The common garden lettuce contains a bitter principle that has tonic properties. If people would learn to eat the lettuce leaf, without any addition whatsoever, some every day in the year, the practice would be as good as a life insurance. Try it, please, washing it until it is as clean as a rose. Learn to eat it thus. Get the habit. Its calories are nothing, and suggest nothing of its vital benefits.

The potential alkalinity of lettuce is a bit higher than that of a lemon, and it is secured at less digestive expense. It contains as much iron as asparagus, more than celery, and far more than a tomato. Cabbage and string beans are only a little richer in this element. The lettuce leaf is a laboratory of the minerals so highly contributory to health.

Cooked lettuce is a daintier green than spinach. Lettuce cut up in ribbons and added to various kinds of soups about five minutes before they are taken from the fire gives a crisp addition that is like a relish.

Rich but Heavy; Anyhow Mr. H. B. Warner's In It.

By Mae Tinee.

THOSE who visit the theater for entertainment, not enlightenment, nor the study of complex subjects, will not, I prophesy, rise in a body and proclaim "God's Man" the world's greatest motion picture. Personally while admitting the excellence of acting and lighting effects, I found the production gloomy and depressing to a degree and was glad of the moment when I could escape to the sunshine and bustle of Michigan avenue.

The book from which the picture is taken was written by George Bronson Howard and is the story of a man who through helping others reaches the depths of degradation, crime, and misery. And the object is to prove that it is system not man who errs.

For many years the eldest son of each generation of L'Hommedieu's had followed the ministry. The L'Hommedieu of the story—expelled from college for helping a friend out of a gambling scrape, is denied this privilege, as his father, while applauding his course, declares that with the stigma of disgrace on him he would bring reproach to the sacred calling. So he goes out into the world, determined at any rate to live for the betterment of his fellow men.

Results are lamentable. He carries the curse in his heart, but the devil's own luck follows him. Baffled and bitter he wishes to believe that there is no good. An old philosopher advises him differently. It is system that is wrong. Seeing, as he believes, the great light, L'Hommedieu goes forth to take punishment for a crime he has committed in order that when he is free he can prove to the world just where it is wrong.

H. B. Warner has never done anything better than this rôle, but it is not one in which, I believe, most of his admirers will care to see him. He is supported by a sterling cast. If, therefore, you like this sort of a picture you will like this particular film. If not—its manifold excellencies will not reconcile you to its heft.

COMMENT

The war cooperation committee instituted by William A. Brady at the request of President Wilson to aid war work in the name of the National Association of the Motion Picture Industry will hold a meeting at the Princess theater July 12, when plans of the committee will be announced. Aaron Jones will represent the state of Illinois.

It will be left to the picture fans of Chicago to elect the star or stars who will lead the grand march at the ball to be given Saturday night, July 21. The one who receives the largest number of votes will win the honor of heading the procession. Votes are to be left at the exhibitors' booth, Coliseum. The leaders in this contest will be posted each day at this booth.

ASK ME! ASK ME!

L. L.: I have a list of the various motion picture studios which I shall be glad to mail you, if you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope.

LINDA: I don't know of any special picture to recommend to any refugee from St. Louis that contains scenes similar to the one you have been through. If I were you I imagine I should rather see something quite different. Probably some of the film weeklies.

JEAN M.: Thank you. Glad to have heard from you.

A Shiny Face Sure an Affliction, but There's a Remedy

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

If you should the discussion formerly under your own name, you will have the added twenty pounds from your face by this time. Should you be a stout woman, or have a tendency to put on flesh, follow out a few of these hints, fatten less and go only such with discretion, as the system as treating this matter will undoubtedly be noted by you. Any other questions pertaining to beauty and health will be gladly answered.

LONA D.: A SHINY FACE IS indeed an affliction, but fortunately one that does not have to be endured forever. If you will wipe your face several times each day with a cloth dampened with alcohol you will find the shine gradually disappearing. Alcohol has a tendency to dry the skin and can be used without fear of injuring its texture. This, together with the use of a good rice powder, will bring about the desired results, I am sure.

MRS. ADA P.: YOU CAN DARKEN your eyebrows by using plain yellow vaseline. It will take time, however. You can use an eyebrow pencil without harming your eyes. It must be used carefully and artistically. You can train the brows by brushing them each night with an eyebrow brush. Beautifully arched eyebrows and long curling lashes add materially to making the face attractive.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—1. In the crotch of every leaf of my thirty-five tomato plants a new branch is starting up. Shall I prune off all such suckers in the blossoms? 2. Some blossom singly and drop off. What advice to make them go to fruit and not to growth? My tomatoes do this every year.

Ans.—1. Yes, leave only the main stalk and blossoms on it. (See articles No. 74 and 75, May 13 and 20.) 2. The pruning serves that purpose. About the end of this month, when the main stalk bears two or three clusters of noticeable fruit, let two or three branches develop for greater harvest.

Q.—How many bushels of navy beans are produced on an acre? 2. About what time would they be harvested if planted in middle of June? 3. Do lima beans grow well here? 4. How many bushels to the acre?—Blank, regardless of repeated requests.

Ans.—1. Five to fifteen bushels, according to land and treatment. 2. Latter half of September. 3. Yes, on poles. 4. No figures available.

Real Love Stories.

Her Mother-in-Law.

ALICE was one of the many San Francisco girls who formed part of the admiring audiences when the sailors drilled at the exposition. One night, going home rather late, she was accosted by an elderly officer, who, to her relief, a young sailor stepped to her side, sent the other man about his business, and asked permission to escort Alice home, saying he would want any man to do as much for his sister.

From that meeting grew friendship, and he spent many evenings at her home. One night Alice asked about his people, and he shamefacedly admitted he had run away from his home hundreds years before and had been afraid to write home since.

Alice, much disturbed, begged him to write his mother, but through shame he refused. At last she said, "I like you and shall miss you, but a man who risks letting his mother worry over his fate cannot visit me. Please do not come again until you have heard from home."

He left, feeling sulky and abused. It was a month before he appeared again. For the sake of seeing Alice he had written at last. His mother sent a loving reply, telling of his father's death and the family's long search for the missing son. His father had been wealthier than they knew, and the sailor's inheritance made him a well to do man. A special letter was inclosed bearing a mother's thanks and love to Alice for having made her boy write.

When the sailor lad went home Alice went with him and is now mistress of one of the most delightful homes in the town, and the word mother-in-law signifies the most devoted of her relatives.

Bright Sayings of the Children

One day we were invited out to dinner at our friends' home. Our hostess had impressed upon her small son that little children were to be seen and not heard at the table. After the guests were seated at the table a while the little fellow glanced at his mother and remarked almost despairingly, "Mamma, how long did you say I should be spineless?" F. D.

Louise was walking to Sunday school with her grandmother. She carried some flowers in her arms. "Gama," she suddenly inquired, "does the sun hurt the flowers?"

"O no," her grandmother said, "the sun is good for the flowers."

"O yes, the sun is good for their complexions." M. T. N.

My little niece met a friend of the family one day whom she always called "Aunty" and having a new baby brother at the house the friend said, "Well, Evelyn, how is the baby this morning? Is she walking yet?" My niece replied, "No, no, aunty. Us girls are here, wee babies are hims." E. R.

"The Tribune" will pay $1 for each childish saying printed. The only condition is the story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. Write on one side of the paper only. Always in This Carton

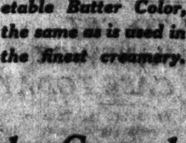
Be sure your dealer gives you this Butter Color Capsule.



It contains Pure Vegetable Butter Color, the same as is used in the finest creamery.

Moxley's Margarine and Color Capsule

In churning Moxley's, pasteurized milk and cream and other choice materials are used, insuring a rich, cream white Margarine—one test of quality.

With the exception of a few months each year fine creamery butter is a rich cream white like Moxley's Margarine, so color is added in churning. All dealers selling Moxley's furnish free the very same pure color as used in creamery. You can color Moxley's for use on your own family table—and save ten cents on each pound.

How to Use the Color Capsule

Remove the Margarine from carton, placing it in a bowl or dish, and flatten out. Now take the capsule of pure vegetable butter color, puncture with a needle or pin, and drop color evenly on the Margarine.

With a large spoon or paddle work the color through the Margarine, turning in the edges and repeating just as you would to work in more salt. Continue doing this until the color is evenly distributed and the Margarine is a golden yellow.

Then pack the Margarine in a crock or dish and set in a cool place. When hardened it is ready to serve.

NEWS OF THE STAGE: IN THE MAJESTIC

POPULAR anxiety which has been simply terrific was relieved last night when the management made it known that the musical piece in preparation for Powers' will—for an hour or two, anyway—be called "O! So Happy!" instead of something else. With this out of the way, it is, perhaps, pertinent to explain that Thursday night of next week is set for the première.

Lisa Abarbanell's place in the cast will be taken by Miss Marguerite Farwell; she may be identified as a clever young unknown who, last summer, helped Lew Fields in "Step This Way!" by singing "If I Take the 'L' Out of 'Kelly.'" Nobody else of the many who tried sang it so well. She seemed, in that employment, to be a good substitute.

Charles W. Clarke, the baritone, is to try the two-a-day: he will be in the Majestic's bill week-after-next.

Anna Held is going into the job of making the world safe for democracy. She is to put on patriotic tableaux for the inspiration of the aviators who get as high as the Manhattan roof-gardens, and incidentally recite something called upon Joanne d'Arc to come back and save France, where most of Madame Held's property is.

The Ravinia Park singers will tonight add "Rigoletto" to the season's list, and on Friday night "Martha." Frances Ingram will be in the scenes from both pieces, with Florence Macbeth, Orville Harrold, and Millo Picco (as the jester) in the former, and Edith Mason, Mr. Harrold, and Henri Scott in the Flotow work. Irene Pavlowska will after tomorrow night's "Cavalleria Rusticana," give Stephano's song from the third act of "Romeo and Juliet."

Current in the Majestic:

Joe Ho Gray and Ada Somerville—He [Ree] chatters about a place he calls Oakalhoma while he deftly does things with lariats. His chatter isn't as good as Will Rogers'; his rope-work is better.

Ted Doyle and Harry Brown—Fragrant children of the rathskellers, natty and nasty, serving as passing proof that Mr. Thresher is in error in saying that things don't get into the wrong places when not segregated.

Thomas F. Swift and Company—A former pet of the neighborhood theaters with two young women in an amiable and aimless sketch. He wrote it, and knew what he was doing. None of them should sing.

Inket, Chan, and Corcene—They are, says the playbills, "presenting their very newest laugh." They found it in a trunk, where there are countless others—the afterpieces and interludes of the nigger minstrels. It is, perhaps, as funny now as at any time. Imhof's notion of a bewildered Tad is familiar and beloved.

Trovato—Bunks 'em with a fiddle. They adored him.

John Arthur in "Liberty Aflame"—Has we have fresh proof of Thomas A. Edison's influence on the drama: if the electrician fell ill, there would be no show. Miss Arthur, wired and insensate, is the effigy on the Barthoidi statue, made animate and articulate by the realization that we've simply got to win this war if Liberty is to stay there. There is a punch in the opening picture, and another in the close, if only a lap in the text, which Miss Arthur, deep-lunged and delsartean, reads just as she used to read Shakespeare, but not better than that. Eked out with magic-lantern pictures and wartime hoakum, the "act" is effective two-a-day stagecraft. Even a pacifist may get a noble glow from this.

Harry Carroll—A shrinking nifty from Broadway, hating himself for his very greatness, and hating the audience for reminding him of it. He wrote all those song-hits, you remember: if you don't, it doesn't matter; for he plays them all over again, along with the new ones, incidentally cashing in on the war. Mr. Hammond may not have had Harry in mind when he wrote, not long ago, that the native song-writer is the lowest form of animal life. Incidentally, Harry is the especial riot of the bill.

Otis and Mishka—She, graceful and homeless, dances three times; and he helps. Worth waiting for.

Women "Peddle Bills" for Cooks' Rally Tomorrow

A DETACHMENT of the nation's conservation army headed by Mrs. Walter Brewster invaded a loop kitchens yesterday distributing handbills inviting all those "professionally engaged in the preparation of foods" to be present at the great cooks' rally at the Hotel Sherman tomorrow night. They also distributed the handbills in grocery stores in various parts of town. Cooks and chefs in hotels, clubs, and also in private families are specially invited by the woman's committee of the council of national defense and asked to bring their best wheatless, meatless menus to contest for a prize of $10 offered by the committee.

There have been so many inquiries about the meeting that arrangements have been made to care for an expected overflow meeting. No menus sent by mail will be accepted by the judges of the contest. All those wishing to contest are asked to bring their menus with them to the meeting, where a company of Boy Scouts has arranged to collect them and also to distribute the Hoover pledges for food conservation.

The conservation meeting in Lake Forest today will take place at the Durand school instead of at Durand institute, as the committee previously announced. There will be a similar meeting in Evanston in the rooms of the Women's club on Friday, at which Miss Isabel Bevier will be the speaker.

The woman's committee of the council of national defense has begun to fulfill its mission as a clearing house. To avoid confusion, the Chicago chapter of the Red Cross has agreed to give up its registration and is sending to the registration headquarters of the woman's committee, 60 East Madison street, copies of the registration cards that have been filled up to date. On the card for the woman's committee there will be a division for Red Cross work, and the committee will send each evening to the Red Cross a list of all women who have registered that day for Red Cross work.

It was moved and adopted at a meeting of the committee on women and children in industry of the woman's committee yesterday that the committee should cooperate in every possible way for social and industrial justice for the wages in Illinois.

Navy League Women Show Fine Results in War Relief Work

FIGURES showing the war relief industry carried on at the Navy league headquarters at 17 North State street, with its benedcent results, were given out yesterday by the workers there. Among other products, the workers have made up and prepared for sending for use 800 pajamas, 400 convalescent robes, 468 hospital bed shirts, 1,000 pairs of socks, 400 pairs of slippers, 100 dozen napkins, 2,400 dozen handkerchifs, 100 dozen sheets, 80 dozen pillow cases, 30 dozen wash cloths, 160 towels, any number of operating gowns, operating leggings, caps, hot water bag covers, sweaters, scarfs, wristlets, and knitted helmets.

These articles are ready to be sent to Great Lakes naval training station. There are also to be sent surgical dressings sufficient for use in a base hospital, where 250 beds are provided for. All this has been done within the last three months.

Monday of each week is ladies' day at the Oconomowoc Country club, when golf tournaments are held, with tea afterwards. Monday was the first of the tournaments, at which Mrs. Lawrence Fitch, chairman of the entertainment committee, was hostess, assisted by Mrs. William Nelson Feleuse, Miss Marjorie Miller, and Miss Edna Dixon.

Master Chase Joerns, so reads a little pink announcement card received yesterday by friends of his parents, announces his arrival at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Joerns of 7665 Sheridan road, on July 9.

The woman's auxiliary of St. Anne's hospital will give a card party today at 2 o'clock at the Hotel Sherman for the benefit of the hospital. Mrs. Edward C. Hunt is in charge of arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Hutchinson of 6231 Sheridan road have returned from a 5,000 mile motor trip through the east, during which they were in the White mountains and at a number of points along the Maine coast.

Miss Elisabeth Folds and Miss Florence Folds, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Folds of Lake Forest, will leave this week for a month's outing in the woods of northern Wisconsin.

Announcement comes through Mrs. Richmond Dean that the House of the Good Shepherd, Grace street and Racine avenue, will devote some time to making garments for soldiers' orphans and surgical dressings and sweaters for soldiers. Those willing to help in the work may do so by sending money to pay for materials. Cash and checks may be sent to the mother superior, House of the Good Shepherd.

The Aldis playhouse in Lake Forest will be opened for the first time this season Friday evening. Another event that evening will be a dinner at Onwentsia given by Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Carry in honor of Capt. and Mrs. Nicholson (Miss Ermine Carry), who were married on Monday.

USE COCOANUT OIL FOR WASHING HAIR

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain pulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get pulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—Adv.

MARRIAGES

Miss Helen Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Johnson of 5211 University avenue, will be married this evening to Capt. Elbert Clark of the ambulance corps of the University of Chicago.

A picturesque wedding of today will be that of Miss Consuelo Rogers, daughter of Mrs. Alfred Rogers, to Dr. Juan B. Medina, which will be performed by Archbishop Ruis of Mexico and Manuel Cuesta, former consul for Mexico, at the De Paul University church at 1010 West Webster avenue.

Mrs. Charlotte Grable of 6147 Ingleside avenue announces the marriage of her daughter, Marion, to Steven V. Ryan.

Miss Helen E. Devlin, daughter of Mrs. S. E. Devlin of 314 Montrose boulevard, will be married this evening to H. H. Morey of Decatur, Ill.

Chicago Women Open Club in Waukegan for the Boys in Blue

THE Chicago Woman's club is one organization which does not believe in "saving" the boys who wear the uniform of Uncle Sam by interfering with their comfort and insisting upon entertaining them when they do not want to be entertained. The women of the club's unit for patriotic service do not think that because the young men of the country have put on khaki and navy blue they are going to be a menace to the country every minute they are not engaged in shooting Germans.

The women do feel, however, that whatever people can do for the comfort and cheer of the boys who have, many of them, come from other cities and are without friends here, should be done, and to that end they have decided to establish a navy club on the main street of Waukegan, where there will be pool and billiard tables, a good place to lounge, books and magazines, and as many comforts as possible, free to the sailors who want to come to Waukegan from the Great Lakes station.

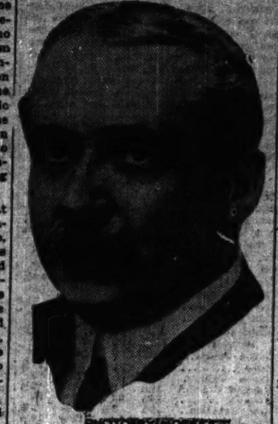
Mrs. Edward Glaser has guaranteed the rent of the two story building selected and the expenses of running the club will be met by individual members of the club.

Miss Harriet Montgomery of 1542 East Sixty-first street has accepted the post of general commanding Division 30 of the Woman's Emergency league, a part of the Third corps, of which Mrs. Ernst Freund is field marshal. Tomorrow at 3:30 a number of Miss Montgomery's officers and others interested in the new constitution movement, will meet at the residence of Mrs. Linn White, 5114 Woodlawn avenue, for a discussion, in which Mrs. George A. Soden and Carlton G. Ketchum, the associate campaign director, will participate.

Today is Red Cross day for the Children's hour of the Drama league at the Municipal pier. Miss Justine Cook will tell the boys and girls what they can do for the Red Cross. Miss Georgine Faulkner will tell patriotic stories, and the Junior Drama League Players will give a flag drill and salute to the colors.

Herbert Kelcey

Born Oct. 10, 1858. Died July 10, 1917.



New York, July 10.—[Special.]—Herbert Kelcey, the actor, died today after an illness of weeks.

Herbert Kelcey Lamb, to restore his family-name, was a native of London, born Oct. 10, 1858. His first acted in 1877, and had done so well by 1881 that he was made leading-man of Drury-Lane Theater when "Youth," a military-play which had immense vogue abroad and here, was staged in that year. Lester Wallack, who believed that the best kind of American actors were English, imported Kelcey in 1882.

Chicago playgoers became familiar with him on the annual visits of the Lyceum Theater company. He was with Mrs. Leslie Carter in the first year of "The Heart of Maryland," and then formed the alliance with Effie Shannon which endured with hardly an interruption until his death.

They found their chief vehicle in Fitch's "The Moth and the Flame." They were in Chicago for the last time in 1915 in "Pollyanna."

NEW LOAN PLAN, REPORT; M'ADOO SAYS PREMATURE

Contradicts Rumor of a $3,000,000,000 Issue in September.

Reports current yesterday in financial circles were that America's next Liberty loan will be $3,000,000,000 and will be issued some time in September. According to one informant the informal terms were learned on good authority.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, however, in a telegram received by James B. McDougal, governor of the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago, characterized the report as premature. Mr. McAdoo said:

"My attention has been called to a report circulated in New York City that the next offering of the Liberty loan would be made on the 15th of September next and that the amount would be $3,000,000,000. This report is wholly unauthorized. I have not yet determined when the next offering shall be made nor what the amount shall be. I desire to warn the public against recurrent unreliable reports of this character. When the amount and date of the offering have been determined official announcement will be made by the treasury department."

Money Rates Easier.

Money rates in Chicago show a slightly easier tendency, with rates for time loans at 5¼ to 5½ per cent. Until yesterday it could hardly be said there was any change in the rate to borrowers.

Western banks are gradually coming into the market. Chicago institutions have to date mostly found themselves unable to buy commercial paper. Easier conditions are expected, however, to work changes in the attitude of the banks.

Steel Decrease Expected.

The decrease in unfilled tonnage shown in the report of the United States Steel corporation for June was not unexpected. To the uncertainty of government steel requirements and the present high prices for the metal are attributed the big decrease in unfilled orders on the books.

Buyers are said to be holding back until the announcement of the government as to what it will pay for the steel it will need is forthcoming.

A committee of some of the most prominent men in the steel industry went to Washington to confer with the members of the federal trade commission and government authorities in regard to the war steel requirements. The following are members of the committee: Elbert H. Gary, E. G. Grace, James A. Farrell, H. G. Dalton, A. C. Dinkey, J. A. Burden, E. A. S. Clarke, John A. Topping, and W. L. King.

NEWS OF THE COPPERS

NEW YORK, July 10.—(Special.)—Stockholders of the Butte Copper and Zinc company are in receipt of a letter from President Albert J. Seligman announcing a plan to increase the capital stock by 100,000 shares of $5 par, making a total capitalization of 200,000 shares. The new issue has been underwritten without cost to the company and will be offered to stockholders and voting trust certificate holders as of record July 31 on the basis of one share of new stock at $7 a share for each five shares now owned.

The $700,000 thus raised is to be used mainly to acquire properties adjacent to the present mine, the purchase price being fixed at about $630,000.

The new properties under contract for purchase are the Czarromah quartz lode mining claim, the Ravonia Fraction quartz lode mining claim, Nellie quartz lode mining claim, seven-sixteenths of the Ella quartz lode mining claim, and approximately 90 per cent of the capital stock of the Montana Central Mineral company, which owns the Montana Central, Bob Ingersoll, and Black Placer claims.

The Butte Copper and Zinc company's present property is under lease to the Anaconda Copper company, the latter company operating the property, and the lease will be extended to the new properties when they are acquired.

President Seligman's letter states that B. B. Thayer, C. F. Kelly, vice presidents of the Anaconda company, and A. H. Melin, secretary and treasurer of the company, have expressed their willingness to become members of the board of directors of the Butte Copper and Zinc company.

FINANCIAL NOTES

A REORGANIZATION plan for the United Railways has been agreed upon by the St. Louis city officials and representatives of the company whereby the company shall be capitalized at $60,000,000 and all earnings over 6 per cent shall be divided equally between the city and the company.

June sales of the United Cigar Stores company were the largest for any month in the history of the company, showing an increase of $575,000 as compared with June of last year.

According to eastern advices the market is for the time being in a state of uncertainty. This, however, only means that with the recurrence of active interest in market affairs there should be an upturn in quotations.

The statement of earnings of the Northern States Power company for June shows gross revenue for the month of $526,471, an increase of $89,632, or 20.5 per cent, as compared with the same month of last year. This is the most favorable showing ever made by the company during a summer month.

At a meeting of directors of the International Aircraft company Raymond H. Hardy, formerly with Babcock-Rushton & Co., was elected a director to fill the unexpired terms of F. H. Stewart. C. S. Purdy was elected a director to succeed George S. Seymour.

There was lost or stolen a certificate of the Union Carbide company, the number being B-9179, for ten shares of stock.

It is estimated that earnings of the United States Steel corporation for the quarter ended June 30 will be around $136,000,000.

Net earnings of the Butte Superior company for the fiscal year ended amounted to $3,941,856, a decrease of $6,555,378.

OIL NEWS

NEW YORK, July 10.—H. F. Sinclair, president of the Sinclair Oil and Refining compnay, today said net earnings in the current year from operations applicable to interest, dividends, and other corporate purposes "can be conservatively estimated at $14,000,000, based on existing prices, which in my judgment do not yet reflect present high costs of operation. Our estimated operation expenses, however, take present costs into account."

Referring to the corporation's various acquisitions, Mr. Sinclair continued:

"Prices at which the corporation has from time to time acquired these properties are far below those now prevailing and contracts already entered into for pipe lines, refiners' tanks, cars, etc., have been made at prices far below present levels. While there has been no charges for depreciation there has been no credit for appreciation, which has actually been many times more than any depreciation. However, a system of substantial depreciation charges is being formulated.

"The corporation is better balanced as to control of raw materials, pipe lines, refineries, tank cars, and distribution of refined products than any of its larger competitors, and therefore in the existing national emergency the corporation will be amply able to do its part in connection with the existing demands of the government upon the larger units of the oil industry."

Notes of the $20,000,000 issue recently put out by the Sinclair Oil company were offered at 95 on the New York curb yesterday.

The final dividend for 1916 by the Royal Dutch Petroleum company amounts to $3.15 on each American share. This distribution probably will be made about July 25 to stock of record July 20.

Leading grades of Wyoming crude oil have been advanced from $1.40 to $1.45 a barrel, record high prices in that state.

HOG RECEIPTS OF 19,000 BRING PRICES DOWN

Late Sales Show 25 Cent Decline; Beef Cattle Are Steady.

Hog receipts of 19,000 head at Chicago yesterday were much larger than expected and the largest for a Tuesday since last March. Lackawanna Steel.

Under proposed excess profits tax it would appear that Lackawanna Steel in current year will show net earnings free and clear for dividends equivalent to approximately $46 a share. In other words, granted that present estimates of earnings without making allowance for taxation are correct, the excess profits tax will take from Lackawanna about one-third of its total earnings.

GAINS HELD AT CLOSE.

New York, July 10.—Various developments contributed to the improved tone of today's broad and active market, extensive gains of 2 to 5 points in numerous issues being fully retained at the close.

The better crop outlook, as indicated by yesterday's crop estimate; increasing recognition of benefits to the railroads from recent rate concessions, and further declines in time and call money were factors of more than passing importance.

Washington advices, which pointed to an early solution of war tax and profit problems, and the continued success of the allies' movement on the eastern war front, also helped to stimulate speculative sentiment.

These favorable auguries were neutralized in a measure by unofficial reports of another federal bond issue in the near future and a reduction of over half a million tons in unfilled orders of the United States Steel corporation for June. The latter exhibit occasioned no surprise, as it was known that the steel corporation long ago deemed it advisable to reject outside business to meet the prospective demands of the government.

Rails on Upward Move.

Rails were active at advances of 1 to 3 points. St. Paul common and preferred, the Pacifics, and coalers showing greatest strength. Low grade carriers later joined in the movement.

United States Steel made a gross gain of 1 point from its low price of the morning, and Bethlehem, Crucible, and Lackawanna steels and Republic Iron advanced 1½ to 3 points with other equipments, the shippings, and motors.

Metals moved irregularly most of the time, and specialties, particularly Industrial Alcohol and tobaccos, reflected the greater activity of pools. Alcohol rose 6 points to 157½, American Sumatra Tobacco 3 points, American Tobacco 4, United Cigar Stores 4, and Tobacco Products 2½.

Heavy dealings in Liberty 3½s, all the big individual lots selling at par, was the outstanding feature of the firm bond market. Internationals added for the most part to yesterday's stronger trend. United States bonds of older issues were unchanged on call. Foreign exchange was featured by the greater strength of francs and rubles.

CIGARET SALES FOR MAY SHOW BILLION GAIN

New York, July 10.—[Special.]—Sales of cigarets in this country in May increased 1,000,000,000 cigarets over May, 1916, the total amounting to 3,068,000,000, compared with slightly over 2,000,000,000 a year ago.

The gain for the five months ended May 31 amounts to nearly 5,000,000,000. For the five months' period of this year total sales of cigarets were 13,112,287,545, as compared with 8,740,859,993 for the first five months of 1916. The percentage gain for the month of May was 50 per cent and the increase for the five months' period was about the same.

In large cigars the increase for the five months amounted to 400,000,000 cigars. This is a larger increase than had ever been recorded for a full twelve months' period.

On the basis of the present rate of increase cigaret sales for the full year 1917 should run better than 36,000,000,000 cigarets. Sales in 1916 amounted to 26,000,000,000 cigarets.

2,800 Freight Cars for Santa Fe; Cost $8,910,000

It has been announced at the general offices of the Atchison that the road has purchased 2,800 new freight cars at a cost of $8,910,000 in order to alleviate the shortage of freight cars on the Atchison lines. The company has ordered 230 new locomotives at an outlay of $9,200,000, which are also included in the $35,000,000 equipment expenditure program. The first delivery of new equipment will be made in August.

Utah-Idaho Beet Sugar Prospects Favorable

According to advices received by John Burton & Co. from Salt Lake conditions are very favorable for an extraordinarily fine crop this fall in the Utah-Idaho fields. The last government crop report gives Utah a rating of 107 per cent as compared with normal. The figures are based upon the average condition at this time of year for the last ten years.

The corn market yesterday proved a surprise to the trade and ruled sharply higher in the face of a bearish crop report. Opening prices on the deferred months were lower but the market quickly rallied and grew stronger as the day advanced, closing 2¼@2½c higher for new crop months. Heavy buying of December corn by one of the local professionals was the feature. Block-Mallowy were also big buyers and there was demand from the commission houses in general. Shorts covered freely. It was apparent that the selling of Monday in anticipation of a bearish government report was overdone. Reports of damage to corn southwest as a result of dry weather and excessive heat and the speech of the German chancellor indicating no hope of early peace were bullish factors.

Cash corn was ½@1c higher with top sales made at $1.87, a new record. Local shipping sales were 98,000 bu. Clearances for the day were 171,000 bu. Primary receipts totaled 624,000 bu, compared with 860,000 bu a year ago. Broomhall reports Argentine corn as arriving in better condition, as a result of dry weather.

Oats Active and Higher.

There was a big trade in oats and the market displayed much strength, particularly the July. Latter showed an advance of 2c at the finish, while the deferred deliveries were up ¾@7⅛c. Offerings of the July were extremely limited and shorts were anxious to cover, being influenced by recent large sales of standard oats in store, which is said to have disposed of practically all of the contract grade in local, public elevators. There was a fairly good commission buying of the deferred months, although sentiment relative to new crop deliveries was generally bearish because of the excellent crop outlook.

Cash oats ruled ½@1½c higher, with No. 3 white showing a premium of 7c and standards of 7⅛@7½c over the July. Local shipping sales were 50,000 bu. The seaboard reported evidences of further demand for export oats, and said these were apparently hard to buy at some of the leading western points. Clearances were 306,000 bu. Primary receipts totaled 981,000 bu, against 540,000 bu a year ago.

Wheat Market Is Firm.

Wheat closed ¼@1c higher, trading being merely in the way of evening up outstanding contracts. Washington reports credited Food Administrator Hoover as saying there would be no fixing of wheat prices, but intimated that farmers would be protected from sharp depressions in prices, also that no speculative buying would be permitted if congress passes the food bill. Crop advices were favorable, but more rain is wanted in the northwest. Clearances of wheat and flour for the day were 32,000 bu, against 525,000 bu a year ago. Primary receipts totaled 176,-000 bu, with 762,000 bu last year. Bradstreet's shows a decrease of 2,969,000 bu for the week in the North American available supply. Minneapolis stocks decreased 136,000 bu for three days.

Further declines in hog prices at the yards depressed provision values early in the session, but the market rallied sharply later and finished with material advances. Leading sellers of Monday were best buyers yesterday and the bulge in corn did much to strengthen the market. Liverpool meats were higher. Western markets received 168,-000 hogs, against 121,782 a year ago.

Dull Trade in Rye.

Rye was dull and easy, with No. 2 quoted at $2.@. A part car of No. 2 sold at $2.36, and a part car of No. 4 at $2.00. Receipts were 3 cars.

Barley dull but firm. Malting sold at $1.35 and ranged from $1.25@1.47. Feed and mixing ranged at $1.15@1.25, and screenings at 50c@$1.00. Receipts were 11 cars.

Timothy seed ruled steady. September was $8.50 and $8.65 asked. Clash lots were sold at $6.50. Clover seed quiet, with spot prime $16.50, and country lots nominally $12.00@17.00.

Flaxseed was 4½@5¼c higher with cash quoted at $2.79@2.84½. Duluth was 3@5½c higher, Minneapolis 4½@5½c higher, and Winnipeg 1½@5½c higher.

GOSSIP OF THE PIT

News from the southwest of a bullish kind was responsible for much of the buying of December and May corn. Local bulls were aggressive on the buying side. Le Count wired Barrell from Hutchinson, Kas.: "Terribly hot dry weather yesterday. Hottest day in many years. Corn is drying and curling and there has been much damage, with losses increasing each day. If this hot dry weather continues this week the greater part of the crop in the territory recently covered will be a failure." Maximum temperatures at eleven points in Kansas Sunday and Monday were from 106 to 107. Reports received during the day yesterday indicated a few showers in western Kansas. Oklahoma reports complained of dry weather conditions.

European crop reports were mixed. In Russia the weather has become favorable, but the general crop outlook is unsatisfactory. The loss to winter wheat has been heavy. The interior movement of grain is light, and the outlook for shipping is gloomy. Harvest in southern Italy has started, but the crop is about two weeks late. Supplies are light and arrivals are moderate. The yield of wheat and other grains in France will be larger than expected but much smaller than last year. Crop reports from Germany received through neutral countries indicate poor crop prospects, the outlook for wheat being said to be about 40 per cent.

Sentiment in corn was more bullish yesterday owing to the strong tone shown in the face of bearish news developments of the last few days. While the government report was generally construed as bullish on account of the immense acreage and the chance for improved condition with favorable weather, the report had little effect in stimulating opposition on the part of the bears. Embargo news also failed to cause much selling and peace reports fell on deaf ears in the pit. Local bulls were aggressive and with commission house buying took up the slack in the December and May forcing shorts to cover.

The high price on cash corn yesterday was $1.87, with the demand again fairly active, and offerings light. Country sales are reported light and while Seaboard reports indicated there was a slackening of the export demand due to the more stringent shipping supervision, all cash corn centers reported a brisk demand. Export bids at Omaha kept pace with the futures and high bids through Iowa sent out by a Des Moines firm resulted in the purchase of only two cars, although the state was covered by the bids. Local sales were 50,000 bu.

Oats stocks are dwindling rapidly at Chicago and practically the entire stock of standard oats is sold out. Cancellations from store for shipment the last two days have been nearly 400,000 bu. Cash prices were 1@1¼c higher and oats on track sold at big premiums over the July. Local sales were 200,000 bu. Downstate points reported the south bidding 3½c over Chicago basis for No. 3 white oats. There is not much prospect for any important marketing of new oats during July and sales to arrive so far have been light.

The weekly report of the St. Paul said in the territory east of the Missouri in Iowa, Minnesota, and the Dakotas small grains show excellent promise. On the main line of the Hastings and Dakota division in South Dakota there are complaints of dry weather. In the Red river valley soaking rains are needed. Corn is exceptionally good color and the stand is excellent. In progress it is well up to the ten year average.

According to New York advices, the Wheat Export company is willing to pay $1.80 basis St. Louis and Chicago and $1.75 Kansas City basis for new No. 2 hard wheat for last half July shipment and August shipment from the seaboard. It is understood there has been some business done recently in new wheat at about 20c over the prices above quoted.

An amendment will be posted for ballot which will give the directors of the board of trade authority to remit the assessments of members who go to war. Quite a few members already have enlisted in the service. Another amendment will be posted providing for an increase in the fee for weighing grain from 25c to 50c a car.

Minneapolis reported a good demand for cash wheat with No. 1 northern 10@20c over the July. Barley was quoted 5c higher.

Bradstreet's reported a loss for the week in wheat stocks of 2,969,000 bu. Corn increased 311,000 bu, and oats decreased 1,941,000 bu.

Australian and Argentine crop reports generally were favorable. Argentine reports on the result of the corn harvesting were bullish.

Minneapolis wheat stocks decreased 136,000 bu and oats 220,000 bu decrease for three days.

Receipts inspected yesterday: Wheat, 33 cars; corn, 197 cars; oats, 21 cars; rye, 5 cars; barley, 11 cars. Hogs estimated for today, 34,000 head.

Some reports from Ohio indicate best wheat yields in many years.

MIDCITY BANK ELIMINATED AS AID TO GRAHAMS

Court Again Delays Case to Allow Time for a Settlement.

One of the several interests that have been mentioned as likely to step in and take over the bank of Graham & Sons, which recently closed its doors, was eliminated yesterday when William J. Bathje, president of the Mid-City Trust and Savings bank, said his institution had nothing to do with any plans for reorganization.

When asked if he had been inquiring into the value of the assets of the Graham bank and had then withdrawn from any merger plans, Mr. Bathje replied that he had not been interested in the matter in the first place.

Near Graham Bank.

The Mid-City bank is at Halsted and Madison streets, about a block from the Graham bank, and has been mentioned as being favorably located to take part in reorganization plans.

Federal Judge Carpenter, on motion of John D. Black, attorney for the Graham brothers, yesterday granted a stay of adjudication until Aug. 20 in the bankruptcy case in which the Graham bank is involved.

It had been expected that William C. Niblack of the Chicago Title and Trust company, receiver, and Referee Wean would have a full report ready so that the case could be adjudicated tomorrow.

Chance for Settlement.

The delay granted by Judge Carpenter will leave the way clear for the Grahams to pay off their indebtedness and avoid bankruptcy.

Referee Wean last week began a hearing into all the circumstances connected with the closing of the bank. Last Thursday the fact was brought out that other interests were considering the advisability of taking over the bank's business. The various developments caused Attorney Black to ask for more time.

Sues to Recover Upon a Lorimer Bank Judgment

William C. Niblack, as receiver for the La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank, filed suit in the Circuit court yesterday against Charles Novak, Frank H. Novak, and John W. Novak, individually and doing business as Novak & Co., to recover on a judgment for $21,630 obtained against Charles Novak in the Municipal court in February, 1917.

The judgment was secured for failure of Charles Novak to make good on a note for $18,500 held by the defunct bank.

Do Your Oil Stocks Show a Profit?

¶ Today many holders of independent oil stocks find themselves in position to dispose of their shares at a satisfactory profit. Others may be holding issues which have so far failed to make good, from a market standpoint, and are therefore seeking some other security that will fulfill their expectations.

A Profitable Suggestion

¶ To investors in either of these situations, it will be worth while to give the stock of the Pennsylvania-Kentucky Oil & Gasoline Refining Corporation earnest consideration, as an issue in which to successfully reinvest the proceeds that could be realized from the sale of their present oil or other security holdings, which sale can be effected through us, if desired.

Dividends 4% Quarterly

¶ Pennsylvania-Kentucky Oil is on a dividend basis of 4% quarterly, and the contemplated additions to the company's producing and refining capacity should result in this rate being increased, or in the payment of extra dividends, as earnings justify. The stock has just been introduced to trading on the New York Curb, where it should become a popular trading issue, at steadily rising quotations, in view of its excellent intrinsic worth, and the large additional equities that will be added.

121 Producing Oil Wells

¶ Pennsylvania-Kentucky Oil owns and controls valuable natural gas and oil lands in West Virginia, Kentucky and Ohio, comprising 19,030 acres. In the West Virginia tract it has 121 wells which have been producing steadily for years. Earnings from these wells alone are more than sufficient to pay dividends at the rate of 4% quarterly on the outstanding stock.

Placement of Orders

¶ Orders for Pennsylvania-Kentucky Oil will be accepted by us for execution "at the market," the present quotation being around $5.50 per share, or slightly above price at which the stock was recently offered at private subscription. We will execute orders for the outright purchase of this stock, and promptly forward certificates, or will carry it on our Monthly Investment Plan, upon an initial deposit of $2 per share. Orders may be telegraphed at our expense.

"Third Rail" Seeks to Raise All Commutation Rates

First hearings before the state public utilities commission on the petition of the Illinois railroads for a 15 per cent increase in freight rates started yesterday on the specific question of coal, coke and iron ore tonnage tariff.

Commissioner Funk of the commission heard the application of the Aurora, Elgin and Chicago electric line for a general increase of 10 per cent on all commutation rates and a 15 per cent freight rate. The evidence presented was taken under advisement. A final decision will be given July 18, and then additional hearings will be docketed.

"Niagara to the Sea"

FROM the deck of a fine steamship view the ever-changing panorama of a trip unrivalled in beauty and full of scenic interest. Board one of our boats at Niagara or at Toronto. Let us take you to Montreal and on to quaint old Quebec. The bracing beauty of the Saguenay—a river cut by glacial action through the heart of a mountainous country—forms a fitting climax to a 1,200 mile trip that has not a dull moment from beginning to end. Something of its varied charm is indicated by the views above, showing (1) The Ste. Cyprian in Toronto Bay, (2) A Deck Scene, (3) A narrow channel among the 1000 Islands, (4) Passengers viewing the "Rapids" scenery, (5) Boat "shooting" the Lachine Rapids, (6) Picturesque Quebec, (7) View from Dufferin Terrace, Quebec, (8) Hotel at Tadousac, (9) On the Saguenay Canyon, (10) The wonderful Cape Trinity.

Full details of this most satisfying of vacation trips will be found in our beautiful booklet—mail, many uses anywhere on receipt of 2c. to cover cost of mailing.
